Highwaymen Hijack U.S. Mail Truck Of $1.5 Million

Largest Cash Robbery In History Of Nation

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston reported the loss in the hijacking of a U.S. mail truck in Randolph last night totaled approximately one and one-half-million dollars.

This exceeds the loss in the nation's previous biggest cash haul, the Brink's robbery, in which $1,219,000 was stolen in 1950.

An eight-man gang armed with sub machine guns held up two guards after one bandit dressed as a police officer, signaled them to halt.

Hours later police at the scene were without clues to the robbers.

The reserve bank made it clear the money stolen was the responsibility of the reserve bank and that Cape Cod member banks shipping the funds would stand no losses.

At least four automobiles were used in the robbery. After tying up the truck's two guards the bandits made three stops as they unloaded the money which was contained in 15 sealed bags. Two stolen cars were abandoned near the scene. They were checked by state police fingerprint experts.

Eight men, using at least four cars, are believed to have taken part in the robbery.

State Police Detective Lt. Joseph Simmons made the estimate. Postal inspectors said it would be hours after banks opened before a more accurate figure could be given.

Leo Loughlin, special agent in charge of the Boston FBI office said he had no information to make public.

The robbery was a professional job executed with cool efficiency. One holdup man wore a police uniform. All wore white gloves. The truck was hijacked on the northbound lane of Route 3 in Plymouth and later abandoned here, 25 miles north. The robbers blocked off a lane several miles back with detour signs at the nearest exit. This forestalled some motorists from driving onto the holdup scene.

FBI agents said the method used was known to be favored by two men high on the FBI "most-wanted" list. They said the technique was similar to that used in previous holdups by Bobby Wilcoxon of Duke, Okla., and Albert Nussbaum of Buffalo, N.Y. They robbed two New York banks.

Russians Jubilant Over Return Of Cosmonauts

Parade For 'Twin' Spacemen Planned

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Officials already were on hand to pass out pictures of the latest Soviet space heroes, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich.

"It's the most magnificent feat accomplished ever and certainly one of the most brilliant achievements in Russian history," declared one young Soviet student.

Loudspeakers blared the news throughout the capital. Workers huddled in groups listening to automobile radios. The news broadcasts by Moscow radio blared frfom apartment windows, where many Muscovites left their sets turned on full blast.

"I think everyone will be happy they landed safely," said a Soviet journalist. "But I think we were really worried."

Informed sources felt the traditional "welcome home" parade and Red Square celebration for the two cosmonauts would be held Friday.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was vacationing on the Black Sea, but his presence in the capital for the spectacle appeared a certainty. The families of Nikolayev and Popovich also will be on hand.

The Free World praised the scientist and spacemen responsible for Russia's double space triumph. But its admiration was mingled with fears that the Soviet government would use its achievement for Cold War advantage.

Yasumi Kurogane, chief cabinet secretary of the Japanese government, said the double orbit and safe landing "proves that the Soviet Union is rapid-

Sausalito Planning To Burn Arks

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Four of Sausalito's Mono Street arks are to be burned, starting Friday.

The Schooner Galilee has been given a 90-day reprieve to allow its owners, the Walter Leaskins, time to evolve a plan for its preservation.

Action was taken by a three-man city council last night in an orderly two-hour session in an-almost filled council chambers.

Utilities will be cut tomorrow on all properties except the Galilee, said City Manager Charles A. Brown. The four arks, including the Phoenix which is occupied by sculptor Barney West and family, are to be pulled onto A. G. Schoonmaker Co. property by that firm and burned there.

Owners of the arks are Philip S. Savage and Gene De Prado of Sausalito, and Alex Georgiatis of Oakland, and Robert G. Barteau of San Francisco. Barteau owns the Phoenix.

Schoonmaker has volunteered to do the removal at no charge, other than a $1 liability protection to the city, so he fulfills a bargain with the city to keep Mono Street for use as a storm drain. The firm has recently filled its land immediately bordering Mono Street and some fills has slipped into the 60-foot underwater street, causing a 20-30 foot encroachment.

West said last night, outside of the meeting, that the Phoenix is but three feet on Mono Street, the rest sitting on associated dredging property to

Marinwood Assn. Directors Reject Government Change

By ALTON S. BOCK

Marinwood and Terra Linda should avoid both incorporation and annexation at this time, directors of the Marinwood Assn. agreed last night.

Conclusion of a committee report to the association was that Marinwood at least should keep its community services district and county services and wait until that combination outlives its usefulness.

"We're definitely against incorporation at this time," said Louis J. Grimard, chairman of the committee, "but we're also not pushing for annexation."

The 12-page report was called an evaluation of the study of the area's political future made by William R. Zion, municipal government consultant. The report was prepared by Grimard, Frank H. Johnson and Kenneth D. Lawson, all association members.

Boyd F. Wells, association president, said the report would be submitted to the Marinwood Community Services District board. "We probably should submit it to the Terra Linda CSD board also," Wells added.

(Terra Linda board members had complained that Terra Linda was not represented on the committee. At the Terra Linda CSD board meeting last night, directors asked for another study.)

The report included these comments:

1. A natural boundary separates Marinwood and Terra Linda, and there must be a connecting road other than Highway 101 to "effect complete unity." Such a road, it was estimated, would cost $180,000.

2. The proposed city of the two areas would be entirely residential, with moderate assessed valuation. "Residents would strenuously object to a substantial increase in already high taxes."

3. Consolidation of the two fire departments, contrary to the Zion report, would not be so advantageous to Marinwood

Terra Linda Seeking Incorporation Report

Fears of annexation to San Rafael arose last night at the Terra Linda Community Services District meeting, and district directors decided to try once more to get a favorable report on incorporation.

Directors were advised by Mrs. Annette Bode, secretary and general manager, that chances looked slim for any support from Marinwood on the proposed incorporation of the two areas as the city of Santa Margarita.

(Petitions for an incorporation election are being reviewed by the county clerk's office.)

"I was invited by the Marinwood Assn. to attend an informal committee meeting last week prior to their report on incorporation and annexation," Mrs. Bode said.

"It was a somewhat negative meeting. They tried to convince us that San Rafael is not such a big, bad wolf. They were very concerned about any increase in taxes. Although it was probably a facetious remark, the comment was made, 'We're ready to throw Terra Linda to the lions.'"

"To the dogs, you mean!" put in Director Melvin Warenback.

He suggested the Terra Linda, CSD board should ask the Marinwood CSD board to initiate another study of the political future of the two areas.

"Both boards should be

Recreation Plan For Hub Is Detailed

San Anselmo should set up a recreation and park commission of seven members nominated by the city council and the school district, consultant Gene Saalwaechter of Berkeley recommended last night.

Through this commission, the city's recreation facilities and school playgrounds could be administered jointly, under a fulltime recreation director.

Joint administration by the school district and the city is the most economical way to get the best use by the most people, the consultant declared.

Saalwaechter's 75-page report laid out specific, step-by-step planning of recreation for the entire city.

The report and recommendations will be discussed at the next meeting of the city council on Aug. 28. The report was prepared by Saalwaechter and a citizens advisory committee of six.

GEORGE DOES IT

'Brain' Welcomes Supervisor Board

With characteristic brashness, Marin County's new "mechanical brain" gave its own welcoming party at 8:30 a.m. today with county supervisors as honor guests.

IBM-1401, which Supervisor Peter Behr has named "George," altered its hitherto arrogant behaviour to be the perfect host to this extent:

1. It typed "Welcome Board of Supervisors" 600 lines a minute.

2. It read, wrote and did 'rithmetic.

3. It made coffee for the guests (or at least, it provided the place to plug in the coffee pot).

"But we had to send out for the doughnuts," confessed Arleigh Sewell, data processing bureau boss.

Nor would the big brain bestir itself to serve the coffee. It just sat there in several elements, all blinking red and green lights happily.

Sanderson Knowles, an IBM man from Oakland, showed how the lights went on to show work in progress and he further explained: "If anything goes wrong, the proper lights will go on to tell what."

All five supervisors were on deck in a state of high apprehension over flying reports that the machine was going to take over the board's functions completely, but no alarming

Larkspur Trustees Vote For Rec Funds

After weeks of saying, "no," Larkspur School District trustees last night voted 3-0 to contribute $1,750 to next fiscal year's program of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission.

The motion to contribute the same amount as last year was made by trustee M. K. Taylor, seconded by John W. Boyd, following a discussion in which the board for awhile considered giving $1,000.

Trustees John R. Cunningham and Jack L. Mengel were out of the county.

Commission chairman Albert E. Kogler, attending the meeting, thanked the board and said the allocation would enable his group to maintain its program at last year's level.

The joint recreation program has been promised $4,250 apiece of the cities of Larkspur and Corte Madera. It now needs only $250 to reach the $10,500 it estimates it needs.

"We'll have no trouble," Kogler said.

The school board adopted a budget for the new fiscal year totaling $843,792. Trustee Chairman Pauline H. Secor estimated the tax rate will be $2.55 per $100 assessed valuation, instead of a previously estimated $2.63. Last year's rate was $2.41.

To provide the recreation funds, the board switched $1,000 within the community services item and cut the general reserve fund by $750, reducing this fund to $250.

Space Twins Return To Earth

Combined Flights Equal To Five Trips To Moon

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russia's space twins were brought safely back to earth today, completing their million-mile orbits of the globe by landing in the Soviet Union.

The official Soviet Tass news agency said Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich came down at dawn within six minutes of each other. It said they landded "according to plan" in an area south of Karaganda, a town in Kazakhstan, a southern Soviet republic. Karaganda is about 373 miles north and east of what is believed to be the main Soviet cosmonaut launching site at Baikonur, not far from the Aral Sea and also in Kazakhstan. The combined distance of the tandem space flights equalled five round trips to the moon.

Tass said that both cosmonauts were feeling fine and that "their physical state after landing is good." Nikolayev was up about four days and Popovich three days.

One Soviet scientists predicted man would reach the moon in this decade, and Venus and Mars in the next.

The United States is believed at least two years away from its first twin-cosmonaut experiments, in which it will send two men aloft in a single space craft rather than attempt a rendezvous of two ships. Observer in Washington feel that, despite the feat of Nikolayev and Popovich, there are sound reasons for thinking the United States can be first on the moon. The United States plans to take its second rocket shot of the year at the planet Venus next Monday in a move that could restore lost prestige in the space race.

Sir Barnard Lovell, head of Britani's Jodrell Bank radio-telescope, said he thought the possibility of the United States catching up with Russia in the next decade was remote. He said he expected a Russian rocket to be launched at Venus within a matter of weeks, or perhaps even days. And he said the Russians very quickly should be in a position to detroy American spy-in-the-sky satellites in space.

A Moscow Radio report said Nikolayev and Popovich were met by correspondents and friends after they landed. It did not say whether the "friends" included Lt. Col. Yuri Gagarin and Maj. Gherman Titov, the first two Soviet spacemen, who landed near the village of Fmelovka in the Saratov ergion near the Volga River, more than 1,000 miles west of today's landing site.

Tass said Nikolayev and Popovict "solved their scientific and technical tasks successfully and completely."

The agency said they "flew" their ships, gathered valuable data on space communications and "excellently endured the orbiting, the prolonged space flight and return to earth."

All systems and units in the space ships — the Vostok III which carried Nikolayev and the Vostok IV with Popovich aboard — "functioned flawlessly," the news agency said.

It said the twin space flights were of "exceptional importance for the further conquest of outer space and the accomplishment of the age-old dream of mankind—flights to other planets and worlds."

Completion of the twin flights left the Soviet Union with four astronauts and the United States with two who have orbited the earth. Nikolayev holds the record with 64 orbits, while Popovich made 48. Gagarin, the first man in space, made only one orbit, while Titov completed slightly more than 17. For the United States, Marine Lt. Col. John S. Glenn and Lt. Comdr. Scott Carpenter made three orbits each.

Driver Is Given Five Days, Fine

Adriaan Mager, 41, of 128 Buchanan Drive, Sausalito, must serve five days in Marin County Jail and pay $276 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced him yesterday for driving while intoxicated along Bridgeway in Sausalito on June 16. Mager was convicted by a jury.

Mager also loses his driver's license for at least six months. The judge permitted Mager to serve his jail time on work furlough.

Park Concession Profits Of 82.1%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jack Brooks (D-Tex.) said today concessionaires in national parks are given virtually self-perpetuating, monopolistic rights to gouge the millions of visitors.

He said the concessionaires are not charged even a minimum franchise fee and their profits range as high as 82-1 per cent.

Brooks issued the statement as his Government Activities subcommittee resumed hearings on ways of preventing waste of taxpayers' money.

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall was called to testify.

Brooks contends the hearings so far on the Commerce Department and the Small Business Administration have shown how to save nearly 100 million dollars yearly in federal expenditures.

He said the subcommittee will explore at least 14 areas of Interior Department activity.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Men Aged 45-54 Dying Off

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—American males aged 45-54 are dying of heart disease at an alarming rate.

Scientists will study the diets of 1,500 men over a period of months to learn whether blood cholesterol level is one of the causes and to see whether people will pass up some of their favorite foods.

The Public Health Service announced yesterday initial grants totalling $152,142 for a research program.

The study will be conducted in Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Minneapolis and Oakland, Calif., on 1,500 married males, aged 45-54.

U.S. Highway Funds Uncorked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government uncorked 1.9 billion dollars in frozen highway funds today that will seep into the economy over the next few months.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges announced the allocation to enable a speedup in federal-state road building programs.

The money had been frozen in the Highway Trust Fund since 1959 to ensure the fund's solvency.

Holdup At Penney's

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A search widened today for a brazen gunman who invaded the sixth floor money room of the downtown San Francisco J. C. Penney store and escaped with $39,359 after locking three women clerks in a safe.

The bandit, wearing a nylon stocking mask and brandishing a long barreled revolver, ordered the women to open the door to a room to which Penney employees bring their cash for counting. He handed them a holdup note and then showed a gun.

U.S. Venus Probe

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States is preparing for its second attempt within a month to launch an interplanetary spaceship to probe mysteries of cloud-shrouded Venus.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Kay Spreckles Gable, widow of Clark Gable, lost out in court yesterday to Alma de Bretteville Spreckles in a clash over the trust fund Mrs. Spreckles' late husband Adolph, left for his descendants.

Superior Judge Timothy L. Fitzpatrick upheld the terms of the trust which provides that no person can become one of the seven trustees of the eight-million-dollar fund without the approval of Mrs. Spreckles.

"I don't suppose anyone would object," Walker said.

"I've got to play in the symphony orchestra this afternoon, and I need to practice," the woman explained.

BELVEDERIANS THINK THEY SAW SPACECRAFT

A Belvedere family reported they saw what they believed to have been one of the Soviet Union's two manned space capsules last night the last possible night for such a sight, since both landed today.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Corwin Hinshaw of 8 Crest Road, Belvedere, said they spotted an orbiting space capsule at 7:59 p.m.

"We watched it for 10 minutes from a clearing not far from our home on top of the island," said Mrs. Hinshaw. "It moved very slowly, and it seemed to be the only object in the sky at that time. It was about 20 degrees above the horizon and was traveling from northwest to northeast."

Mrs. Hinshaw said the capsule could be seen without binoculars but when observed with binoculars it had an "elongated shape." She added that her 85-year-old father, Will Youmans, also watched the capsule.

No other Marinite reported seeing the capsules.

A moonwatch team at University of California at Davis reported seeing both capsules at 9:03 and 9:09 p.m. However, the Davis observers said they saw the capsules at about 30 degrees in the northeast sky for less than a minute.

Novato Swimming Pool Cost Estimate Rises

Novato city councilmen last night learned that a community swimming pool will cost approximately $99,000, a jump of $15,000 over first estimates.

The council voted to hire attorney James T. Morton of San Mateo to draw up necessary papers to put a $100,000 bond issue on the Nov. 6 ballot to finance a pool.

One resident protested the swimming pool will "get lost" and go down to defeat among more important election issues.

Architect Richard S. Banwell of Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics architectural firm in San Francisco told councilmen the $99,000 cost would include a 42-foot wide, six-lane swimming pool.

That size, he said, is a standard interscholastic swimming pool, not an Olympic size pool.

The council recently received a letter from the Novato Unified School District stating it would approve installing the pool at Novato High School.

The price, Banwell added, would also include construction of a 34-square foot and 12-foot deep diving pool and a shallow wading pool for non-swimmers approximately 200 square feet. It also includes all fees and a 10 per cent contingency for rising costs.

Complaints Are Filed Against Suspect In Gang Fighting

Complaints were filed today against nine Marin City Negro youths, suspected of participating in a gang fight with white youths near Miller and Montford Aveneus in Mill Valley last Saturday morning.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said all nine came in to talk with Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas T. Storer, who questioned them. Five are under 18 and will be referred to juvenile authorities. Evidence indicates one of the accused youths was not present during the gang fight, and his case will be dismissed, Garety said.

Three youths over 18, scheduled for arraignment this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court, are James Talley, John D. Morgan, and Ron Foster, all of Marin City.

They agreed to appear voluntarily in court today.

Morgan and Talley are accused of rioting and battery, and Foster of rioting.

"Further investigation will be requested to get all the facts of this incident," said District Attorney Garety. He said Deputy Storer will work with Mill Valley police in the investigation.

ly progressing in its space research."

He said that Japan hopes Russia will not use its space capabilities for "military and political means, but rather cooperate closely with the United States for the welfare of mankind."

The West German government said the achievement must be seen alongside Soviet nuclear testing, Soviet rejection at Geneva of U.S. disarmament proposals, Soviet demands for a separate peace treaty with East Germany, and Soviet military demonstrations in East Berlin."

Japan's top space rocketry expert, Prof. Hideo Itokawa, said the Soviet space flights leave the United States "at least two years behind the Soviet Union in space technology."

He expressed belief that spacemen Nikolayev and Popovich attempted a rendezvous in space "but apparently they did not succeed."

In Paris, the newspaper France Soir said the Soviet flights "opened new doors" to space research but warned "important and difficult stages" lie ahead before man can travel to the moon.

Communist China congratulated Russia in a message to Premier Nikita Khrushchev broadcast by the New China News Agency. It said the achievement "once again testified to the matchless superiority of the Socialist camp." The message was signed by Communist Party Chief Mao Tzetung and other leaders.

Disappointment tempered by optimism marked the American man-in-the-street reaction to Russia's latest space triumph

"I'm afraid the Russians are way ahead of us," said E. J. Cox, district sales manager of an Alkali Company in Pittsburgh, Pa. "During World War II, Charles Lindbergh warned us Germany was ahead of America in planes—but we caught up. Now we better catch up to the Russians in space."

"If they can do it, I guess this country can do it too," said Ed Kozlowski, a Chicago bartender. "We've had a few successful shots ourselves, you know."

Before arrival, though, IBM-1401 (or George) had scared the board into giving it a special air-conditioner and a vacuum cleaner and in entering the building it played some part in getting a moving man all cut up in a glass door.

Today's performance of the "standard programming machine"—which lacks the usual control panel but jumps into various sorts of action by push-buttons— including "reading" and sorting 800 punch-cards a minute, punching 250 cards a minute, taking material off one tape and putting it on another, and "writing" in various spacings at a pace of 10 lines a second.

liceman was shot by a motorist who resembled Nussbaum. The man was never found.

"They first stopped us on Route 3 near the bypass. A car went by at 80 miles an hour. We were doing about 45. We saw the car stop in front of us and a man in a police uniform got out and waved his arms over his head to stop us. I stopped the truck.

"The next thing I knew there was a man coming on either side of the truck, pointing what looked like machine guns at us.

"They ordered us to throw down our guns and open the cage which led to the back.

"The man dressed as a policeman and another man joined the two with the guns and they tied us up and made us lie down on the floor.

"They took our keys and opened the back door and threw some of the money bags to another person, who put them into a car.

"The car drove off and a man dressed as a policeman started driving the mail truck off with us in it. I don't know how far we went, but when we stopped again one of the men got out and took some more money bags and put them in another car.

"Then they drove some more and made a third stop and repeated the same procedure with another man leaving the truck.

"We then drove a long time before they stopped at the Route 128 and 28 intersection. Then they all got out of the truck and took the remaining money bags into a fourth car and drove off."

The other guard was William F. Barrett.

Teller Says Russ Scientists Best

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller, physicist known as the father of the hydrogen bomb, says the best scientists now are not in the United States, but in Moscow.

He alluded to Russia's feat of orbiting two men at the same time.

The United States "must get people or equipment to the moon for knowledge, and for knowledge only," Teller told a conference of refrigeration engineers yesterday.

'U.S. Jet Shot Down By Laos'

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Interior Minister Pheng Phongsavan said today a jet fighter with U.S. Air Force markings violated Laotian air space yesterday and was shot down over the former stronghold of Khang Khay.

The neutralist cabinet minister said antiaircraft batteries manned by troops of Gen. Le's forces brought down the fighter — an F-101 type — in the Plaine des Jarers.

Asked the fate of the pilot, Pheng said: "We don't know."

Forest Knolls Home Probed For Arson

Arson investigators said today that the Forest Knolls home of Neil Dwyer may have been looted before it was hit by a $32,500 fire yesterday.

Dwyer and his family have been on vacation since July 31. The fire, of unknown cause, started in the basement and spread through the house doing $20,000 structural damage and $12,500 damage to furnishings.

Sheriff's Sgt. Kenneth Irving said a television set, two tables and an oil painting could not be found in the embers. A neighbor reported they were there the day the Dwyers left.

"We're investigating the possibility of both arson and burglary," Sergeant Irving said.

Four county fire trucks answered the alarm which was turned in by a neighbor at 7:45 a.m.

Final Budget Decision Is Scheduled For Monday

Final decision on Marin County's budget won't come before next Monday, supervisors decided today. Initially today had been set as the last day for such work.

Reason for the delay is that Sonoma County is running a week behind Marin on budget work and not before next Monday can a Sonoma decision be expected which means $82,000 to Marin County.

Sonoma and Marin are teamed in construction of a Point Reyes-Petaluma bridge at their boundary with a total cost of $164,000. But Administrator Alan Bruce reported $300,000 to $400,000 may be cut out of the Sonoma road budget, with the bridge as top victim, in case bids to be opened Monday show that a new county building will cost one and one-quarter million dollars.

The supervisors worked from 9 to 11:40 on Public Works Department matters originally scheduled to be finished by 10, for garbage disposal work. They voted a $21,000 tractor but the money was found from two funds without boosting the budget total.

as the "simple consolidation of the Marinwood Fire Department with the new Eichler development in Lucas Valley."

4. A five-man police force as suggested by Zion, would be less adequate than services now provided by the county sheriff's department.

5. Combined parks and recreation services would probably cost far more than the $44,000 budget estimated by Zion.

6. Incorporation would provide local representation which "may or may not be an improvement over county rule."

The report asks the Marinwood CSD board to "seek a mutual understanding with the City of San Rafael" and concluded:

"With the maturation of Marinwood, it is likely that the people will seek a higher level of services and will turn toward annexation.

"Although this committee can find no major objection to annexation, neither can it find any pressing necessity nor dominating consideration encouraging annexation."

"Rather, the committee finds an overriding conviction that the community will discover its future course at such time as the present governmental structure no longer meets the needs of those it seeks to serve."

guided by the same patterns and premises," Warenback said. "We have people who would be willing to serve on a committee."

President Robert H. Brownne agreed to ask Marinwood CSD board chairman Howard Council to cooperate in setting up a committee to take another look at the advantages and disadvantages of incorporation as compared to annexation.

State School Building Aid Is Due Novato

The State Allocation Board has approved $93,000 in state school building aid for purchase of a 12.17-acre site for the proposed Sutro Avenue School in Novato, Capitol News Service reported today.

The cost of the site—about one-fourth of a mile west of South Novato Boulevard on Sutro Avenue—is being negotiated and cannot be revealed now, said Supt. James G. Bunker of Novato Unified School District. He intimated, however, it would be less than $93,000.

Novato was the only school district in the county included in yesterday's state loans and grants, totaling $6,350,000, to buy sites and build new classrooms in Northern California school districts.

Felon Loses Plea To See Wife

A San Quentin convict, scheduled to die in the gas chamber on Sept. 4, lost his second plea to have his imprisoned wife visit him for the last time before he dies.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court this morning denied without comment the plea of Lawrence Christopher Garner, 30, to have Sondra Grounds Garner, 26, brought from the women's prison at Corona for a final visit.

Garner and his wife were convicted of slaying a couple in the San Bernardino desert in 1959. He was sentenced to death, and she to life in prison.

Last week, Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court turned down a similar request by Garner.

Oldest Citizen Is Feted

Louis Joseph Oliver was 107 years old today.

Young girls danced Hawaiian dances, there was singing, gifts and as a special treat, beer. Pop Oliver loves beer. He also loves the warm sun of his native California, so the party was held in the hospital courtyard.

Pop, born in a gold camp in Sonora on Aug. 15, 1855, has seen much of California history. He has been a cowboy, farmer, lumberman, road builder, dairyman, store owner, carpenter and house painter. And, until a recent sickness slowed him down, he has been spry and active.

Though he is now forced to take life at a slower pace, his mind is still active and his memory is clear.

Judge Haley Hospitalized

Marin Municipal Court Judge Harold J. Haley is in Marin General Hospital with an abdominal ailment, which may require surgery.

He became ill Sunday night and entered the hospital Monday. A member of the family said the judge is "getting along fine" and may go home tomorrow.

Planners Override City In Legalizing Subdivision

The San Rafael Planning Commission overrode the city council last night to legalize an illegal subdivision that came about because the council overrode the planning commission.

And in doing so, the commission also overrode itself.

Several years ago, Mrs. Thomas J. McNamara applied for permission to build a second house on the Wood Street end of her 6,000-foot lot fronting on Miramar Aveneus, which extends from Miramar to Wood.

The planners said "no." Mrs. McNamara appealed to the city council, which granted a variance for the second house.

In May, Beutler sold the house — or thought he did — through Herman Deitch of Marvelous Marin Realty Co. A title search showed the property had never been legally subdivided, the second house having been built under a variance, although tax rolls showed one lot of 3,100 square feet on Miramar and another of 2,900 square feet on Wood — both substandard under city ordinance.

The buyer hired Hartley Appleton, San Francisco attorney, to try to clear the title. On June 26, the planning commission turned down Appleton's application for subdivision. He appealed to the city council. It turned him down last month.

Last night, Deitch appeared with Beutler and argued the hardship of his case so well that the commission granted the subdivision by 4-1 vote.

The dissent was by chairman Pat Hetherton, who declared:

"The city council was made perfectly aware at the time that it was illegal for Mrs. McNamara to build that second house."

Hammer Threat Suspect Due

Herman Solomon Horowitz, 41, partner in Todd's of California clothing store in Novato, was to appear in Marin Municipay Court this afternoon for allegedly threatening his partner with a hammer.

The partner, Everett L. Thomas of 1317 Leafwood Drive, Novato, told police they were discussing taking in a third partner Monday afternoon at their Nave Shopping Center store. Thomas said Horowitz got angry and lunged at him with a hammer. Thomas ran next door to Woody's television store and called police.

Horowitz, who lives in San Francisco, is free on his own recognizance. He faces a charge of displaying a deadly weapon in a rude and threatening manner.

K.O. Polio Campaign Gets Shot In Arm

The K.O. Polio campaign, which will mobilize several thousand volunteers in six Bay Area counties, got a sound endorsement yesterday from Marin County Supervisors, who dubbed Sept. 23, the first day of immunization, as "K.O. Polio Sunday."

Lumps of sugar containing three drops of Sabin oral polio vaccine will be given to everyone who goes to inoculation centers in the county. There will be three clinics, one for each type of polio virus, on Sept. 23, Nov. 4 and Dec. 9.

It is necessary to have all three vaccines to have complete immunization against paralytic polio, Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin of San Rafael, chairman of the K.O. Polio Committee, told supervisors.

"We hope to have the cooperation of the entire community," he said. "The mass inoculation will mean nothing less than the end of polio in the Bay Area."

Dr. Shatkin said the Sabin vaccine outdates the Salk vaccine and has three distinct advantages: It provides lifelong immunity from polio; it eradicates carrier stages; it is given orally.

Timing of the first clinic just misses meeting the new 14-day requirement for vaccination of school children entering school this fall. State law now requires that school children who have not had any vaccination against polio must receive a vaccination within two weeks after school opens.

Most Marin County schools open Sept. 4, 19 days ahead of the general clinic.

To fill the need of such school children, County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht has announced that pupils referred to her office by schools will be able to get the first vaccine prior to the general clinic.

She emphasized, however, that this would be for only those children referred to her by the schools. Other members of the family must wait until the Sept. 23 clinic.

A donation of 25 cents per vaccine will be requested at the clinics, but Dr. Shatkin said the vaccine will be given free to those unable to pay.

Because of its advantages, Sabin vaccine should be taken even by those who have had the full Salk vaccine series.

Helping Dr. Shatkin will be:

Dr. John Lee of Mill Valley, community relations chairman; Dr. Albrecht and Dr. Leon P. Smith of Mill Valley, clinic sites co-chairmen; Dr. David F. Merten of San Rafael and Dr. Leo A. Wagner of Novato, personnel co-chairmen; Dr. Jack W. Stage of San Rafael, communications chairman; Dr. Michael D. Scholl of Belvedere, records and procurement chairman, and Dr. Gerald Hill of San Rafael, speakers' bureau chairman.

Reed Will Hire New Teacher

Pino was authorized to hire the extra teacher at a salary of $7,000 a year.

The board had been trying for the past three meetings to find another solution to growing classroom loads. Pino reported that Reed enrollment jumped by 50 in the past week, and a member of the audience said there will be no relief for the public schools from St. Hilary's parochial school because it won't open until September, 1963.

Big Apartment Project Rejected

A 92-unit apartment project proposed by a Marin County planning commissioner got thums down from the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Edward Wachsman, recently appointed to the county planning commission, and William C. McDuffie proposed to build the apartments at Woodland Avenues and DuBois Street. Architectural approval had been held over from the commission's July 24 meeting for revision of plans.

The revision, however, included reducing the number of parking spaces from 110 to 99, reported James Wicks of the planning staff. Also, he said, the covered parking spaces are only eight and one-half feet wide, while the ordinance calls for 10 feet.

Then Morrison Green of the building inspection department put in the clincher: the proposed building would be of wood frame construction, but is in Fire Zone 1, which requires one-hour fire resistant walls (concrete or brick).

The commission voted to continue the matter to Aug. 28 to give Wachsman and McDuffie a chance to submit new plans which would conform to city ordinances, if they so desire.

Rezoning from single family dwelling to apartment and commercial use of 6.6 steep hillside acres at Woodland Avenue and Lynn Court, sought by Richard Stockton, was turned down 3-to-2. Commissioners Orlando Conti and Charles Hendrickson objected that the proposed rezoning would allow too great density for the steep hillside. They suggested it be rezoned as planned community so apartments might be built but with less density and under closer control by the city. Commissioner Gene F. O'Connor joined them in the turndown, with chairman Pat Hetherton and Commissioner Carl Brown dissenting.

Plans by architect Robert W. F. Severin for Harry Albert's Arcade Shopping Center at the former Marin Municipal Water District headquarters on Fourth Street won unanimous approval. The plans showed 35 off-street parking spaces, which Albert said might be increased to 40. There is no off-street parking requirement in the district.

Also given unanimous architectural approval were plans for Terra Linda Meadows, a development of 215 family units in apartments and single-family homes adjoining the Northgate Shopping Center on Manuel Freitas Parkway. All utilities in the subdivision will be underground, the commission was informed.

The San Rafael Planners Also:

1. Continued until Aug. 28 a proposed new ordinance section on variances, prepared by City Planner James R. Garrett, which would eliminate the requirement that hardship must be shown for a variance from city requirements. The proposal has already been heavily frowned on by Mayor John F. McInnis, Vice Mayor Charles W. Aby, and City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw.

2. Heard one objection to a proposal for rezoning from single family to duplex of property of Joe Pedroli and George Thomas between Clark Street and Reservoir Road. A second public hearing will be held Aug. 28.

3. Continued to Aug. 28 second hearing of a proposed ordinance amendment to reduce the restrictions on keeping horses in the city. One member of the audience vigorously objected to the proposal.

4. Postponed action to Aug. 28 on revision of the sign ordinance which would require that signs be appurtenant to "actual and present use" and would repeal a section allowing for granting use permits for signs not covered by ordinance. Ray Adams of Foster and Kleiser, outdoor advertising firm, objected the latter prohibition would be "total prohibition . . . a business that's never caused one problem in 50 years." He claimed it would be illegal.

5. Granted Ghilotti Brothers a use permit to fill 18½ underwater acres off East Francisco Boulevard, subject to condition specified by the city engineer. The vote on this was 4-0, with O'Connor abstaining.

6. Granted T. Leonardi architectural approval of an addition to the Army Reserve building on Louise Street.

7. By 3-to-2 vote, granted Standard Oil Co. of California architectural approval for a service station at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue, subject to conditions specified by the city engineer. Brown and Hendrickson voted "no."

8. Granted Louise K. Robello permission to add a studio apartment to a store and office building at 2130 Fourth Street.

9. Approved annexation to the city of 20.12 acres of developer Patrick H. Tarrant's Las Gallinas Units 4 and 5.

10. Denied M. R. Ferguson permission for two parking spaces in the front setback of his house at 20 Marquard Avenue after Mrs. Raymond Merz, a neighbor called attention that he had failed to build a parking deck required by the building department in granting an addition to the house. The motion, by Hendrickson, provided that "the original building permit requirements be enforced."

11. Set for Aug. 28 and Sept. 11 hearings on request of San Rafael Newport Co. for rezoning property at San Pedro Road and the canal from duplex to planned community district.

12. Gave architectural approval to Robert Bottini's plans for an addition to the Crown Glass Co. building at Woodland Avenue and De Luca Place.

Architect Ralph B. Priestley's applications for use permit, variance, and architectural approval for a store and office building on the San Rafael Elks Lodge property at Fifth Avenue and B Street were withdrawn, as was Robert McCarthy Co.'s application for rezoning of the Loch Lomond Marina from restricted commercial to planned community district.

He Didn't Outfox The Planners

There is more than one way to skin a cat—or to find out what a city council plans to do.

John Futscher of San Rafael thought he had a new one.

Last night, the San Rafael Planning Commission had before it an application by Futscher for architectural approval of an office building on Second Street west of Hayes Street. But only a plot plan and one elevation drawing accompanied the application.

"What do we have here?" demanded chairman Pat Hetherton in puzzlement.

James Wicks of the planning staff explained. Futscher didn't want the commission to grant approval, Wicks said. He wanted a denial so he could appeal to the city council. That way, he hoped to get a commitment from the council on plans for widening Second Street, a long-discussed project.

But things didn't work out quite as Futscher planned. Commissioner Orlando Conti moved that the application be continued two weeks to allow Futscher time to submit complete plans. The motion passed 4-1, with only Commissioner Carl Brown voting "no."

Way Is Paved For High Apartments

The way for "skyscraper" apartment buildings in San Rafael was cleared last night by the city planning commission.

The commission approved by 3-to-2 vote an amendment to the zoning ordinance creating an "R-3-S" district, in which buildings to a maximum of 10 stories or 130 feet would be allowed.

Later, by the same vote, it recommended to the city council that the new zone be applied automatically, on its passage, to the D. M. Christensen acreage north of the county civic center. This was at urging of Ben Ostlund of Coldwell, Banker and Co., agent for a never-yet-named developer who wants to build six 10-story apartment buildings, 130 feet high, on the Christensen property. The project has been named Skyview Heights.

Both motions were made by Commissioner Gene F. O'Connor. Voting with him on both were chairman Pat Hetherton and Commissioner Carl Brown. Voting "no" were Commissioners Orlando Conti and Charles Hendrickson. Commissioners May Zappetini and Elmer Welcher were absent.

Conti declared himself firmly against the proposed "skyscrapers." Hendrickson expressed himself against the hurry-up tactics of Ostlund, who insisted he had been assured rezoning of the Christensen property could go through at the same time as the ordinance passage—which, he said, he was promised could be on an urgency basis.

The proposed apartments would rise from a hilltop directly behind Professional Center Parkway. Letters from six doctors with offices there, from a property owner on Professional Center Parkway, and from Harry Heifetz, principal developer of the area, all endorsed the project.

The matter appeared on the commission's agenda as second public hearing on an application for rezoning of Skyview Heights. When chairman Hetherton ruled this would be combined with second hearing on the proposed ordinance amendment, Conti declared:

"I want it in the minutes that I think the whole thing is illegal."

One member of the audience, Charles Degnan, who lives in the San Rafael portion of Terra Linda, spoke against the "skyscrapers."

"I think there is an abundance of this type of structure in San Francisco," he said. "I have talked with Terra Linda people, and no one can see any reason for high-rise buildings here."

Airman Runs Car Off Road

S/Sgt. Lawrence Alvin Wade, 26, of the 666th Radar Squadron on Mount Tamalpais, ran his car off Panoramic Highway early today and wound up among some trees.

He was treated at Marin General Hospital for a scalp cut and bruised right knee, then transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Wade was driving west a quarter-mile beyond the Muir Woods Road at 1:30 a.m. and his car went straight where the road curved left. He told the California Highway Patrol he "may have dozed off."

Novato Street Light Petition Deadline Told

Pedestrian's Leg Punctured By Auto

Richard Charles Bottarini, 38, of 26 Woodland Place, San Rafael, was treated for a punctur wound in his left leg at San Rafael General Hospital after being struck by a car while walking across Irwin Street in the middle of the 800 block at 4:30 p.m. yesterday.

William Thomas Comer, 38, of 1040C Las Gamos Drive, driver of the northbound car, told San Rafael police that Bottarini stepped in front of his car so suddenly that he was unable to avoid hitting him. Bottarini was not knocked down by the impact.

Chain Saw Missing

Luther Kinnard, foreman for O. C. Jones and Son construction firm of Berkeley, told San Rafael police yesterday that a $350 chain saw was left at the bridge construction site at Lindaro and Jordan Streets Friday afternoon. When he discovered it missing and returned to the site an hour later, the saw was gone.

Pill, Hypo Man Pleads Innocent To Charges

Furthermore, his name is not really Jack Parr, but Robert Purdy Brown, he told Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court. When arrested by Officer John Cottle of Larkspur, Brown carried cards with the names of Jack Parr, John Ross, and Jack Fawcett, in addition to Robert Brown.

A young woman, Marilyn Carol Koebke, 23, of San Francisco, who was arrested with Brown, was not held on any Marin County charge. However, both Brown and Mrs. Koebke were held in Marin County Jail for San Francisco and Oakland police.

A preliminary hearing for Brown on the car registration forgery was to be set this afternoon. The Marin County public defender was appointed to represent him.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Charles L. Convis said the car registration felony was the only Marin crime that could be charged. However, Oakland and San Francisco police want to question the pair in connection with car theft and burglaries.

When Prison Inmate Snores

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A new arrival at the Tennessee State Prison got nowhere fast at making new friends.

"We can't sleep," his cellmates complained to guards. "This new guy snores all night long."

Officials moved him to another cellblock only to hear the same complaints there. Several cellblocks later they arrived at a solution.

Injured Roller Operator 'Fair'

Claude Scantlin, 65, of San Francisco, who was thrown from a runaway steam roller Monday on the Tiburon hilsl, was reported still in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Hospital authorities termed Scantlin's condition unchanged. He suffered severe chest and shoulder injuries when the roller's drive chain snapped and let it roll downhill.

The island of St. Helena in the middle of the South Atlantic was so important as a supply station for sailing ships that 1,500 stopped there in 1845. With the advent of steam it's importance declined to a point where only 30 ships put into its harbor in 1959.

Case Of Slightly Mistaken Identity

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The folks in a westside Phoenix neighborhood were pretty itchy over the meanderings of a prowler.

Marvin Cance heard a noise outside one night, grabbed a baseball bat and went after the intruder.

He saw a 6-footer behind the home of neighbor Lloyd Betts. Cance moved quietly, cautiously toward the figure, then swung the bat.

Said Betts later: "He darn near killed my banana tree."

Jurrors Invite Man Shot By Police

Jerald A. Bredahl, 30, Fairfax service station operator who was shot in the head by police bullets after a family quarrel last month, has been invited to appear before the Marin County Grand Jury tomorrow night.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety will present facts leading up to the shooting to the grand jurors, who will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the county courthouse. Bredahl has been invited, but his appearance before the grand jury is entirely voluntary, the district attorney pointed out.

However, Bredahl's wife, who had been in a process of divorce at the time of the incident, has been subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury.

Police Sgt. Charles A. Grasso and Officer Lee Perry said they were called to the Bredahl home at 21 Park Road because of a family quarrel. The officers said Bredahl tried to run over his wife and the officers with his station wagon. Police fired about nine shots at Bredahl's car. One bullet hit Bredahl near his left ear.

Bagley Will Speak To Young GOP

Incumbent Assemblyman William E. Bagley (R-San Rafael), candidate for re-election will address the Marin Young Republicans next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Bermuda Palms in San Rafael.

Bagley will discuss his preprimary campaigning with Richard M. Nixon, Republican candidate for governor.

Registration For Kindergarten Set

Registration of new pupils will be held on Monday at the Meadow Park, Loma Verde, Pacheco and Lynwood schools in the San Jose School District.

Parents of kindergarten and first grade pupils must furnish proof of age of their children. A kindergraten child must have been born on or before Dec. 2, 1957, and a first grade child on or before Dec. 2, 1956.

Children registered after Aug. 28 will receive no notice of class assignment and should report to the schools nearest their homes for a temporary classroom assignment. Students in grades 7 and 8 should report to the San Jose Intermediate School.

Marin Army CWO Ends Long Career

CWO Michael Mangini of 835 Las Pavadas Avenue, San Rafael, recently retired from the Army after 30 years service, mostly with the military police.

Mangini holds the army commendation medal for meritorious service. He plans to attend San Francisco State College and major in education. Mangini returned with his wife, Betty, recently from Germany where he was stationed in Stuttgart.

San Anselmo Rec, Park Unit Recommended

budget of about $22,500 per year is the lowest total expenditure for public recreation and parks of any city in its population class in California, Saalwaechter asserted.

He recommended hiring a full-time recreation director for $644 to $782 per month, a half-time recreation supervisor (athletics) at $458 to $556 per month, and two adults (a man and a woman) for recreational leadership, instead of one on the three playgrounds at Wade Thomas, Brookside and Yolansdale schools. This program would bring the budget to $37,645 per year.

Dwight A. Nelson, vice chairman of the citizens advisory committee, reported that existing recreation facilities are not sufficient for a fully diversified program.

The committee and the consultant agreed that recreation is now aimed primarily for boys and athletics without much for girls, pre-school children, and senior citizens.

Here are some of the other recommendations made by Saalwaechter:

An agreement should be drawn up to spell out the responsibilities of the city council and the school district. Joint planning is important. For example, the San Anselmo Memorial Park near Isabel Cook School should have a master site plan before any other facilities are added. Joint site planning is needed at the proposed new junior high school on six acres of Sunnyhills property.

The D. D. Johnson property behind the American Legion Hall and northeast of Memorial Park should be acquired. The Legion Log Cabin should be acquired by the city and developed into a community recreation center. The Sorich Ranch property at the end of San Francisco Boulevard could be location for a new Legion Hall or Veterans Memorial Building.

Three lots should be acquired on Butterfield Road between Brookside School and Fire Station No. 2. This could be developed into a neighborhood park adjacent to Brookside School.

Four lots should be acquired on San Anselmo Avenue north of Yolansdale School for a neighborhood park. It may be possible to close off the street between the school and the playground and park, thus increasing the size of the playground.

The Sorich Ranch property could provide day camp sites, with the addition of rest rooms and water supply. Trees should be planted there immediately to cover some of the barren spots.

A community plunge is not needed at this time because the Drake High School pool and other private and cooperative pools seem to be serving adequately. However, if a pool is to be planned, it should be located on the new school site planned on Sunnyhills property.

Hub Cuts Sleepy Hollow Fire Payment

The San Anselmo City Council gave in a little to the Sleepy Hollow Fire District last night in its long quarrel over sharing of fire department costs.

Sleepy Hollow receives fire protection from San Anselmo under contract. Sleepy Hollow Fire District directors contend their district has been paying an unjust share.

The latest Sleepy Hollow effort was for rebate of part of its payment for the 1960-61 fiscal year. Last night, the San Anselmo Council agreed to cut $835 from Sleepy Hollow's payment for that year. This represents a share of the cost of buying furnishings for Fire Station No. 2 — which was built largely to serve Sleepy Hollow.

Commissioner Robert O. Keller of Sleepy Hollow assured councilmen that his district will share in cost of replacing the furnishings when the time comes.

The San Anselmo Council also:

1. Promised "100 per cent cooperation" with Marin Medical Society's countywide program to "K.O. Polio." Dr. Morris R. Katkov presented the program, which will offer Sabin oral vaccine to everyone from infants to the oldest at clinics on Sept. 23, Nov. 4 and Dec. 9.

2. Approved a $500 outlay to help the Chamber of Commerce put out new brochures advertising the city.

3. Thanked the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club for donating 10 more wastebaskets for city streets.

4. Asked the city administrator and city engineer to investigate storm drain or sewer trouble at Brookside and Broadmoor and traffic trouble at the Hub intersection.

5. Hired Joseph D. Lopez of Corte Madera as street department laborer at $395 per month. He replaces Robert Adams, who resigned.

6. Approved hiring temporary help to take minutes of next Monday's planning commission meeting. A volunteer stenographer resigned because she could not devote sufficient time for the job. In the meantime, the city is looking for another volunteer to take minutes and transcribe the notes. The job calls for about four days' work per month.

7. Agreed to cut down an old elm tree that is tearing up the sidewalk at 11 San Rafael Avenue. Property owner Joseph J. O'Hara agreed to restore the sidewalk after the tree is down.

8. Appointed Louis Yates of 25 Fernwood Drive to the library board.

9. Turned down a request by Donald T. Wood that the city controller withhold funds from certain city employees' paycheck for a private investment club.

10. Approved purchase of a mechanical arm for a drafting board in the engineer's office for $150.

11. Postponed decision on the Town Center parking plan until the citizens advisory committee makes further study. The planning commission recommended that the Greyhound bus depot area be developed first before any other parking area.

Had To Resign: Found Partners

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Two officials of the Parents Without Partners Club of Tucson disqualified themselves from office.

President Edward Davidson and director Mrs. Lucy Hahn had to resign after they married each other.

The electric utilities industry, which had a record year in 1960, has increased its lead in generating capability over the Soviet Union by 6,300,000 kilowatts. This increases the spread between the two nations to 127,3000,000 kilowatts from 121,000,000 a year ago.

Board Of Supervisors Deals With Record Of 52 Planning Matters

Marin County supervisors dealt with a record 52 planning commission matters yesterday, according to announcement by Planning Director B. D. Dobbs at the end of the session.

Most of the items were uncontested applications for adjustments which could be handled in jig time.

But Supervisor William D. Fusselman suddenly roared into Peter Behr's District 3 and engineered a virtual finish to the log-jam over a number of matters in the Alto area.

Behr some weeks ago started to accumulate petitions, mainly for Alto zoning changes to "administrative and professional" category, while asking the planning commission to consider possible changes in the Tiburon Master Plan with reference both to the community of Tiburon and the Alto area near Highway 101.

Behr was taken aback yesterday when he discovered that without making the changes as yet, the commission had favorably referred petitions of Harry C. Trayer, Barr and Burris, and Burris Lumber Co.

"The commission has held two hearings on master plan reconsideration with a third to come," explained Dobbs. "It felt that rezoning on these applications would not be detrimental to the master plan in any major way so it re-affirmed previous favorable findings."

"This upsets things procedurally," protested Behr. "Why not wait for a package deal?"

But Damon C. Burris and Trayer were both present to complain that six hearings of one sort or another have already been held and that they were being gravely inconvenienced. Fusselman thought they had a point. Behr, declaring himself "locked into my position" called for a vote on more delay. He lost 2-3 with only William Gnoss in support.

Behr then said that though Alto is in his district "I am only one vote," whereupon Fusselman remembered that Behr had sailed into the famous Meadowsweet muddle in his own Second District.

So Fusselman moved approval of the three re-confirmed matters and won 4-1 on each, Behr dissenting.

Dobbs then promised to prepare necessary documents for approval of three more Alto applications next week, these being on the Caldwell property, Billings-Hutchison and Leo and Shirley Brady.

The Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Appointed Robert Testa as fire warden at $408 per month, Dr. George H. Merryman Jr. as deputy county physician, part time, at $300, and Edward David Walsh as library assistant at $360.

2. Referred to the county librarian a projected $10 monthly increase in Bolinas library rent, currently $40.

3. Started action to help the Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. on a fire protection project through provision of a siren.

4. Agreed to let the Red Cross use the civic center lagoon for canoeing instruction Aug. 20-30.

5. Approved agreement for architectural services of Crawford and Banning on courthouse alterations.

6. Accepted the low bid of Dudley Steel Corp of San Leandro to provide a steel building for a Greenbrae corporation yard for $8,435.

7. Split an award for sound system in the civic center administration building, giving Catania Sound of San Rafael one item at $723 and Dayco Electronics Inc. of San Francisco the remainder for $6,025.03.

8. Approved plans and specifications for the projected Wolfe Grade pedestrian overcross over Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Driver Saves Child, Two Of Own Die

BELLEVUE, Wash. (AP) — When he saw two boys riding bicycles at the edge of the highway, Donald Paul Sanford slowed down.

Then the boys veered into his path. One saw Sanford's car and cut back onto the shoulder. The other didn't.

Sanford had his wife and three children with him.

What did he do?

"I saved another man's son—killed two of my own children."

Donald Lee Sanford, 9, and his sister, Mary Kay, 2, were pinned beneath the car after their father swerved to miss the cyclist. The car plunged over a six-foot embankment.

Sanford was hospitalized with a broken vertebra. His wife, Virginia, 31, was treated for minor injuries. Their other child, Ted, 7, was unhurt.

"If I had to do it again," said Sanford, "I would have to do just what I did."

Doggone Good Pupil

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Freddie, a dog of dubious descent, was assigned a desk just like any other pupil when he began following his young master, Kenneth Fisher, to school.

When school was out, Freddie received a report card. It noted that he was a "true, faithful and quiet pupil" and "always follows rules and regulations."

And it said he passed the sixth grade.

Selection of new high school sites in Tamalpais High School District will be discussed on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Speakers wil lbe A'leen Runkle, senior planner of the county planning department; Mrs. Georgette Vilas, former Lagunitas Elementary School District trustee, and David Ring and Leo Souza of the Reed Elementary School District board.

Marshals Return Without Soblen

LONDON (UPI)—Two U.S. marshals handed their revolvers to an airline pilot today and left for New York without Robert A. Soblen, the fugitive spy they had been assigned to accompany back to the United States.

An appeal to Britain's High Court against a government deportation order and other legal moves may take a month or two to settle.

Soblen, now in the hospital wing of Brixton Prison, will remain in Britain.

Marshals Joseph McShane and Joseph Waiseilewski traveled on a regular commercial flight. They gave the crew their sidearms for safekeeping.

Larkspur Approves Lot Split Plan

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night approved 4-0 a compromise proposal by designer Norman Gilroy for splitting a 13,800-foot lot at Magnolia Avenue and Park Way.

Gilroy's earlier proposal to split the lot in half was approved by the commission but rejected by the Larkspur City Council after neighbors protested.

Last night, he told the commission he will sell 3,100-square foot parcels to two neighbors who can add them to their present lots: William Heinemann at 89 Magnolia Avenue and George E. Willis at 10 Park Way.

The commission's approval of the scheme will go back to the city council.

The commission gave architectural approval to eight apartments designed by architect Karl Treffinger for owner Roland Johnson in Greenbrae's Bon Air Subdivision 4.

Ordinance Changes Are Discussed

Corte Madera Sanitary District directors last night discussed proposed changes in ordinances governing the district, but took no action pending the next regular meeting Sept. 4.

The board discussed about 10 old ordinances. It plans to supplant six or seven of them with a streamlined new ordinance after getting advice from its legal counsel.

Terra Linda Board Refuses To Appoint A New Director

Three persons have applied for a vacancy on the Terra Linda Community Services District board, but incumbent directors refused last night to name the applicants.

"It might be embarrassing to the two who are not appointed," said Director Melvin Warenback. "Their neighbors would say, 'What's wrong? Why weren't you named?"

President Robert H. Brownne and Director Richard Less agreed it would be "inappropriate" to name the applicants. Director John E. Duckett was absent.

The vacancy was created in June when former board president Michael J. Franzblau resigned in a row over the powers and objectives of the district.

"We should set up private meetings with each applicant and then announce our decision," Brownne said. He added that secretary-general manager Mrs. Annette Bode would be invited to the interviews.

"All qualifications and philosophies should be carefully considered," said Warenback. "We don't want to select a rubber stamp or an image of ourselves."

The CSD board also:

1. Accepted resignation of Richard G. Drosendahl as public commissioner. Drosendahl, a civil engineer, is leaving to attend Yale University. He has served as commissioner for six months.

2. Agreed to wait until appointment of a new board member before further discussion of the board's objectives and by-laws. The board had previously asked Terra Linda residents to volunteer for a committee to study the objectives, but nobody responded.

3. Learned from Fire Chief Richard Flaherty that the district's new $22,000 fire engine had arrived in good condition.

4. Cut $800 from the police budget when advised by the county auditor that delinquent taxes were not considered in estimating the 1962-63 budget and tax rate. The board agreed to draw up to $800 from reserve funds if the money is needed for any public safety work.

Humphrey's Dividends Told Stockpile Group

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey collected more than 2.3 million dollars in dividends and the value of stock he held in a company with a lucrative government contract increased by 5.7 million dollars in eight years, it was disclosed today.

This was brought out at a hearing of the senate stockpile investigating committee.

The span of time during which Humphrey's wealth increased by roughly 8.2 million dollars included the years from 1953 to 1957 when he served as President Eisenhower's treasury secretary, according to today's testimony.

Walter H. Henson, a supervisor in the General Accounting Office, said that most of the dividends and stock appreciation were attributable to a government contract signed four days before Humphrey took office.

Henson told the subcommittee that companies involved in the government contract also paid additional eight-year dividends of $919,000 to Humphrey's son, Gilbert W. Humphrey.

Another Park Budget Hearing Is Scheduled

If Marin County can "spend $75,000 on a promotion and recreation budget" it should be able to afford a fulltime parks and recreation director at least equally concerned with promoting tourist business.

This argument, advanced in spirited fashion before Marin County supervisors today by Mrs. John Machado of Novato, persuaded the board to schedule a 9 a.m. Monday hearing for the parks and recreation commission.

The proposal had been snubbed by the board in preliminary budget consideration.

Novato Bypasses Highway Meeting

Novato city councilmen last night bypassed an invitation from the California Division of Highways to hold a public hearing in Novato on rerouting of Highway 101.

Councilmen said the hearing, proposed by state highway engineer J. C. Womack, would not change any minds.

Womack wrote he will present his recommendation for routing the highway when the California Highway Commission meets in Sacramento next Wednesday. Womack said all alternate routes for the road will be presented to commissioners, along with his suggestion that the commission, on its own motion, hold a public hearing in the Novato area before chosing a route.

"I prefer to see some action on this," said Councilman Everett Pozzi. "We've done enough talking, and it's time it comes to a head. They've heard everything we had to say."

Council members and residents have met with division of highways engineers on several occasions and voiced preference for a route completely bypassing Novato. However, the state highway commission, which will decide on the route, has not met with Novato residents.

Councilmen agreed that Mayor M. E. Silva should attend the Sacramento meeting next Wednesday. However, they decided they would gamble on getting a favorable route recommendation without a hearing in Novato so the process of getting the highway built can be speeded up. They will attend a local meeting, they said, if the highway commission decides to hold it.

Arks Are To Be Burned

the south. He said he will "take the matter to supreme court."

Removal of the arks had been ordered, following a Marin Superior Court judgment two years ago, to abate fire, health and sanitary hazards.

Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., who led a one-man campaign to save the Galilee, moves for destruction of the three structures closest to Bridgeway This passed 3-0, Mayor Paul Micou and Councilman Michael Harris absent.

Ehrlich then moved that no action be taken now to destroy the Galilee and Phoenix nor connections to bridgeway. The motion died for lack of a second.

Acting Mayor Howard Sievers moved the Galilee "be allowed to remain 90 days at which time a plan or some means for its preservation be submitted to council. I move the Phoenix be destroyed immediately along with the others. The vote was 2-1, Ehrlich dissenting.

A final motion by Ehrlich asked that, during the 90-day period authorized for preservation of Galilee, the Leaskins be permitted to live aboard. The vote was 3-0 in the affirmative.

Ehrlich likened the Galilee to the crumbling Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco and said, "It may be rotting . . . but it's a piece of our past which conjures up emotional response."

John Stevens, in the audience, compared the Galilee with the sunken battleship Arizona at Pearl Harbor, marked by a U.S. monument.

Acting Mayor Sievers said he saw no way possible to preserve the Galilee for historical purposes. Councilman Jan Paul Dyk spoke against saving the arks and added he was worried about the city's liability should there be an accident on Mono Street. The council asked that a sign be posted to warn people of dangers in passage.

Derek Gillis, stationed at the San Francisco Presidio with the Army, said he has lived two years in Sausalito and "You are talking about one of the things that attracted me to Sausalito."

Leaskin said his ship is a ship recognized by the Coast Guard and is a documented vessel.

Coast Guard Rescue Teams Have Busy Day

A Coast Guard utility boat from Fort Point Station last night towed a disabled 18-foot cabin cruiser with nine persons aboard to Juanita's dock at Sausalito.

It was the third rescue tow of the day for the Coast Guard in the area. The cruiser, identified as the Duke, was adrift near Keil's Cove at Racoon Straits with a disabled engine. Flares from the boat were sighted by Eric Moyer of Belvedere, who notified the Coast Guard. The craft was taken in tow at 8 p.m. and docked at 9:55 p.m.

Yesterday morning a patrol boat from Fort Point Station towed a 23-foot cabin cruiser owned by D. Welch of Millbrae to Caruso's yacht harbor in Sausalito, after the craft struck a floating log near the Golden Gate Bridge. Extent of the damage was not reported. Three persons were aboard the craft.

Another cabin cruiser owned by P. J. Branson of San Francisco was towed to China Basin at 9:30 a.m. yesterday after it became stranded in the harbor area with a dead battery.

Airline Is Moving Executive Offices From Denver To L.A.

DENVER (UPI) — Continental Airlines will move its executive offices and about a third of its 1,000 employees here from Denver to Los Angeles next July, President Robert F. Six announced today.

Six said 335 of the 1,000 Denver employees would be affected by the move. He said those being transferred were primarily staff and administrative personnel.

The payroll transfer from Denver to Los Angeles would amount to about 2.5 million dollars per year, airline officials estimated. Continental's total payroll is around 7.5 million dollars.

The airline's maintenance force, which overhauls and maintains Continental's jet-powered Viscount IIs at Stapleton Field here, will remain, Six said, along with airport passenger and ground handling personnel, Denver-based pilots and hostesses, flight kitchen employees and the company's district sales force.

Inverness PUD Accepts Engine

Directors of the Inverness Public Utility District last night accepted delivery of a surplus fire engine purchased from the Tamalpais Fire Protection District.

The board has not yet decided whether to sell its oldest engine or keep it for an auxiliary tank truck, since there are few fire hydrants in Inverness. The district now has four engines.

Last night's meeting was the first for William Thompson, a new member of the board replacing J. B. Craig, who resigned recently.

Skating Rink Wins Zoning For More Ice

Raydine Ice Skating Rink at 70 Greenfield Avenue in San Anselmo last night won commercial zoning for two additional lots that will permit doubling the ice surface, just so offstreet parking requirements are met.

City councilmen voted 4 to 1 to rezone the area behind the present ring from one-family residential to commercial. Owner of the property is Victor Vallerga. Councilman Robert E. Rouse, the lone dissenter, said he is in complete favor of the skating rink expansion, but because the city cannot rezone to commercial and limit the use to a skating rink, he voted "no."

Planning commissioners had previously deadlocked 3-to-3 on the rezoning.

A delegation of Lincoln Avenue residents, armed with a petition containing about 35 signatures, protested the rezoning. However, most of them were concerned with traffic and the parking of Vallerga's garbage truck rather than with the expansion of the ice skating rink.

Mayor John M. Reichmuth assured residents that garbage truck parking is an entirely unrelated matter, governed by the garbage franchise agreement. The mayor said any infractions of the rules on garbage truck parking will be corrected.

Ray Schramm, operator of the skating rink, and his attorney, Robert Praetzel, announced that a new rink will be built behind the present building. The existing rink will be used for special instruction or abandoned. They said parking will be provided under the new building.

Two Men With Similar Records Taken From Span

Two San Franciscans, both 57 years old and with records of alcoholism treatment, were prevented within three hours yesterday from attempting suicide jumps from the Golden Gate Bridge.

Burton Fay Wilt, a shipping clerk, drove a rented car to the toll plaza at 6:30 p.m. and gave 95 cents rather than the usual 25-cent toll to Ernest Arata with the remark, "Keep the change, I'm going to jump."

Arata grabbed Wilt's car keys and called the California Highway Patrol.

Frederick George Anders, who called himself a "news editor" but whose work and home weren't immediately ascertained, took a cab driven by James Bonaparte in San Francisco and asked to be taken to the bridge.

By the time they arrived at 9:45 p.m. Anders had said he planned to jump because an alcoholic condition was "getting him down" so Bonaparte halted at the patrol parking lot and asked the patrol to take over. Both Wilt and Anders went to San Francisco Hospital for observation.

Board Passes 'Open Area' Law, But Planner Dobbs Retitles It

A year and a half of effort culminated yesterday in passage by Marin County supervisors of a much-discussed "open area zoning ordinance."

But because it was limited to public lands in its application, Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said the true title should be "public lands open area zoning."

"It will accomplish little by comparison with what was proposed," commented Dobbs, "but it does allow public lands to be labeled as such. This will prevent leasing of public lands for private purposes.

If such public lands are sold it will be under a specific zoning, which will require re-zoning before the lands can be differently used under private ownership."

Supervisor Peter Behr, who wasn't in office when the open area movement started last year in an effort to preserve Tiburon waterfront railroad property, has been an enthusiastic proponent of the general idea since the first of this year. It was he who finally pushed something through.

But such land as the Tiburon waterfront can't qualify because county counsel has ruled that to zone private property "open area," for only recreational and similar non-profit purposes, would be confiscation.

Strybing Arboretum in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park was made possible in 1937 by a bequest from Helene Strybing.

Apartment Plan Is Approved

An apartment project rejected July 26 on grounds that half the units "would look like row houses" got 4-0 approval of the Larkspur planning commission last night after submission of redesigned rooflines.

Commissioner William P. Schnell was absent.

Given architectural approval were 23 apartment units to be built for Harold Sonnenberg in Greenbrae. New designs for 11 of the apartments and plans for increased parking space were submitted by architect George T. Rockrise, who recently resigned from the San Francisco Planning Commission.

Novato Residents Hit Taxi Rates, But Council Satisfied

Novato residents say it's cheaper to catch a Greyhound bus into San Rafael for marketing than to pay the Novato Yellow Cab Co. for a trip from their homes to downtown Novato.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget last night told Novato city councilmen he has received several complaints from residents about high taxicab fares.

The rates, which were changed from a zone charge to meter in July, are 60 cents minimum plus 10 cents each fifth mile after the first 3/10 mile. Novato residents pay $2 for a ride from Novato to the front gate of Hamilton Air Force Base and $2.50 for a trip from Novato into the base. Bus rate from Novato to San Rafael is 35 cents.

"The implication seems to be that Mr. Worden (Louis Worden, who owns the Novato Cab Co. and is franchised by the city) gouges the public and is making more than he should," cut in Robert D. Carrow, attorney representing Worden. "The rates are lower here than the prevailing rates in the area. I'll be glad to make a comparative study." Councilmen, however, said they saw no reason to interfere with the present rates.

Sausalito Boulevard Paving Approved

Residents on the unpaved 100 block of Sausalito Boulevard in Sausalito have agreed to pave their block of the street.

The Sausalito city council approved standards for the short stretch last night, on a request by Mrs. Eddie W. Lee of 115 Sausalito Boulevard, representing the residents.

Width of the street caused both the council and city engineer Thomas L. Hunter problems. Some council members have stated Sausalito streets should remain as they are — narrow—to maintain character. Hunter wanted a 26-foot or wider street but said he would settle for 18 feet since Sausalito Boulevard is so steep that greater width is impractical. The standard is also to be acceptable for Hecht and Marion avenues and all roads in the zone.

The council introduced an interim ordinance which will make it unlawful for any person to divide or split a lot so as to create a lot with less than the minimum square footage required by the proposed new zoning ordinance.

It agreed to discuss Hunter's suggested parking standards for the Marinship shopping center at next Tuesday's meeting.

The Sausalito council also:

1. Authorized Hunter to prepare plans for the Edwards Avenue retaining wall, approved in the budget at $4,725.

2. Authorized spending up to $350 to repair the council's public address system.

3. Authorized up to $250 to close off the front door to the bus shelter at Bridgeway and Bay Street.

4. Decided to discuss Rodeo Avenue access at its meeting Sept. 4.

5. Gave Mayor Paul Micou, who was absent, authority to instruct City Manager Charles A. Brown to issue a stop-work order on Perego, Harney and Teague Inc.'s Buena Vista Heights subdivision. The council was advised by the architectural advisory committee that the firm had deviated from its plans.

Truck Plunges Down City Hill

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A 12-ton, driverless dump truck plunged wildly down Taylor Street in San Francisco yesterday, after the brakes failed and the driver jumped to safety.

Only the driver, Harold Gridley, 50, of San Francisco, was injured as the huge vehicle careened for a block down the hill and across the Broadway Tunnel overpass.

Princess Anne Fetes Coming Of Age At 12

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Anne celebrated her "coming of age" 12th birthday today and for the first time was the subject of a newspaper swipe at the royal family.

While most Britons confined themselves to commenting on how Anne has grown and her resemblance to her mother, Queen Elizabeth, the Daily Mirror criticized Buckingham Palace for clipping the wings of a "full of fun" girl.

"Surely the time has come," the Mirror said, "when this full of fun girl with a zest for life should no longer be cordoned off from a non-royal world. Let her break away from tradition and choose her own profession."

Princess Anne, the Mirror added, is "growing up very much behind the high walls and clipped hedges of royal homes" despite a recent language-learning sojourn in France and various "incognito" travels around London.

Quentin Felon Drowns While Fighting Fire

A San Quentin prisoner assigned to the Ice Springs prison camp in Mendocino National Forest drowned yesterday in a stream six miles northeast of Tuoloumne, where he was on firefighting duty.

Prison officials said Thomas Jefferson, 41, was washing in the stream after the day's work and apparently got too far out. The body was recovered quickly and artificial respiration was attempted. A resuscitator was flown in by helicopter by forestry personnel, but not in time to revive Jefferson.

Deputy Warden W. D. Achuff said Jefferson was serving a sentence of six months to 10 years for manslaughter in Alameda County.

Next meeting of the council is scheduled for Sept. 11.

Hospital Nurse Breaks A Wrist

Mrs. Marjorie Woodington, a nurse at Marin General Hospital, was leaving her Belvedere home for work at 6:40 a.m. today when she slipped on the top step of the back stairs, fell and broke her left wrist.

She was taken to Marin General Hospital by her husband, William S. Woodington, Belvedere chief of police. Mrs. Woodington fell about 15 steps at her home at 83 Beach Road.

Cloud View Hearing

A hearing on development of Cloud View Park, set for tomorrow night by the Sausalito recreation commission, has been postponed until September, chairman Willard A. Hall said today. The recreation commission will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the city hall to take up other business.

Apartment Zone Is Pressed Before Novato City Council

Apartment dwellers aren't second class citizens, Novato city councilmen were told last night after hearing protests of some 55 residents on Seventh Street near Marion Avenue to rezoning from agricultural to apartment use.

"We're building Novato now," said one protestant, "and we want to keep it from becoming a 'slurb.'" (A combination of slum and suburb.)

"Apartment dwellers are not second-class citizens," cut in attorney Lester M. Belden of Santa Rosa, representing Harry A. Lundblad of Novato, who owns the property. "The zoning map is at best an idealistic concept. Individual developers should determine what goes on the property they own."

"I can't wholeheartedly agree with a master plan," said mayor M. E. Silva. "I like to see Novato grow. This property would be an asset to the city rezoned. Apartment living seems to be the going thing, and we're trying to build a city."

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Approved a monthly salary for Administrator J. Julien Baget of $1,050.

2. Agreed to delay for 60 days acceptance of city maintenance a portion of San Jose Boulevard running by the San Jose intermediate school. "We accept these new streets before any building is done in the area, and then the trucks go in and ruin the road. I suggest we wait until the area builds up before accepting it," said Mayor Silva.

3. Denied permission for a Shell service station on Highway 101 to build a free standing sign on grounds too many such signs make the city look "honky tonk."

4. Appointed William Schneeflock as planning commissioner to fill the term of Henry Kaehler, who has moved out of the city.

5. Hired Muriel Alyce Chartrand of 9 Plaza Loma, Novato, as new cashier-clerk for the city at $310 a month; hired Henry Hankle of Novato as temporary maintenance man at $397 a month; approved hiring a temporary typist at $1.50 an hour to catch up on overflow work.

6. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Sandra Lambert, office secretary, whose husband is leaving the area, and Police Sgt. Wayne W. Knutila, who has accepted a position as chief of police in Gridley.

7. Set a public hearing Sept. 11 on a request for rezoning property on Center Road opposite Plaza Amapola owned by William J. Guinnane from planned residential to restricted commercial use.

Another Safety Citation Given Hub

San Anselmo has received a "six year citation" plaque for having no pedestrian death in the city for the sixth year in a row.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani announced last night he received the plaque from the American Automobile Assn. for pedestrian safety in 1961. The city has had no pedestrian traffic death since 1955. The unblemished record has been maintained thus far this year.

Dufficy Budget Given A Boost

Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr. got a budget appropriation of $150 a month from Marin County supervisors today to provide another part-time physician to do daily jail visits on behalf of the county medical department which he heads.

He said such visits are now being made by members of his staff which is overworked and therefore he hopes to hire an extra physician part-time.

The matter went through within seconds.

2 Men Hurt In Bizarre Fire Accidents

Two men were injured in bizarre accidents last night in a fire at the home of Mrs. Ruth Byers in Sausalito.

Robert R. Byers, 31, son of Mrs. Byers and an interior decorator with the firm of Byers and Clark in Sausalito, cut his face when he ran through a sliding glass door at the home at 149 Crescent Avenue.

Erling Eide, about 25, of Oakland, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital, where he was being treated for scalp cuts and a fractured left arm. Eide fell 10 feet from a tree while trying to quench the fire with a garden hose.

Eide, manager of Kjell of Norway in the Sausalito Village Fair, was visiting his girl friend next door to the Byers home when the fire broke out.

The blaze, according to Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry, started in a garbage can beside an outer wall of the frame two-story home. It burned an area 10 feet wide by 18 feet high and caused "minor damages," Perry said.

Lowell Clark, Byers' partner, said he was sitting with Mr. and Mrs. Byers in the dining room at about 6:22 p.m. when they saw reflection of flames in the windows. "Pandemonium broke loose," Clark related, "and we ran out to see the house was on fire."

Young Byers was injured when he ran through a sliding glass door leading to the terrace, striking his forehead against the glass and breaking the glass. He was treated at Marin General Hospital and returned home last night.

Eide came to their aid immediately. He climbed a tree next to the terrace to pour water on the house from a garden hose. The tree was wet and Eide slipped.

"I can't say enough about the nice neighbors in Sausalito," Clark commented. "They helped fight the fire and brought us food."

Perry, who said it took the Sausalito ambulance 31 minutes from the time the fire call came in to get the two men to the hospital, reported 16 firemen responded and the fire was under control in 30 minutes.

Running polar bears have been timed at 25 miles an hour. A man, running a mile in four minutes, is traveling at 15 miles an hour.

Time Is Ripe For Giants To Overtake L.A. Dodgers

CHICAGO (AP) — If the San Francisco Giants don't overtake the Los Angeles Dodgers soon, they might never accomplish the feat in 1962.

This isn't an official opinion but nevertheless it's one shared by some San Francisco rooters who feel now is the time — while the Dodgers are losing—for all of Manager Alvin Dark's aces to rise to the occasion.

Clearly, things haven't looked so rosey for the Giants since they were in first place back in July. And only a week ago, before the Giants swept three from the Dodgers, some Giant fans were saying all was lost.

Lefty Billy O'Dell, 14-10, faced Cub right-hander Bob Buhl, 8-9, today in an effort to prolong the streak.

San Francisco moved to within 1½ games of Los Angeles yesterday with an easy 9-2 win over the hapless Chicago Cubs. Pittsburgh shaved the Dodgers 2-1.

It was San Francisco's fifth straight win and the club's ninth in its last 10 outings.

The Giants belted Chicago pitching for 12 hits, including a three-run homer by Willie Mays, his 36th, while Jack Sanford coasted to his 10th consecutive win. Sanford, 16-6, hasn't lost a game since June 13, and now has chalked up more triumphs as a Giant than ever before.

All the way it was San Francisco's day and about the only Chicago bright spot was the Cubs' rookie second baseman Ken Hubbs. He ran his streak of errorless games to 57, tying Red Schoendienst's mark.

Three Cub pitchers fell victim to San Francisco's batting barrage.

Starter and loser Glen Hobbie, 4-12, touched for three in the third, gave way to Bob Anderson soon after Chuck Hiller laced a homer.

Mays clouted his round tripper off Dave Gerard in the seventh, a towering 425-foot blast. The most he has hit for the Giants was 51 in 1955 and last year he had 40 but didn't hit his 36th until Sept. 9.

Harvey Kuenn contributed two singles and a double to the Giant attack and Hiller and Orlando Cepeda both chipped in with two singles apiece.

THAT CUSTOMER BELONGED TO ME

This little recital will appeal particularly to the sales manager who belabors with his daily task of coping with a sales force composed of varying degrees of energies, ambitions, effort, and scruples. Although it is born from experiences within the automobile business, it is general enough in scope to find application in any line of endeavor.

It is not difficult to find this type of salesman. He is the guy who rarely leaves the floor in fear he may miss the opportunity to "skate" his fellow salesman while he is momentarily distracted. Or, more often, he will stand by in the wings, careful to remain unobserved, until the other salesman completes the sale. Then, in a loud and forceful manner, he will shout to the heavens and the sales manager that the sale was rightfully his, because the customer was his.

Herein, my power of comprehension is subjected to a severe test. This same salesman is just the one who cannot remember the name of a customer who has bought just 48 hours ago, while he retains sufficient recall of the transaction to detect an innocent clerical error of five cents on the commission involved.

He is also the man who will not only neglect to call on his customer following the sale to assure continued satisfaction, but will deliberately avoid him upon his return to the dealership in fear that a complaint may be forthcoming. Then, when that customer, who, hopefully, has been made a loyal booster through efforts of management and the service department, returns in a year or two to trade again, this miscreant has the audacity to claim the sale as his personal property.

I once worked for a wise Jewish gentleman who had such a salesman on his staff. He gleefully took me into his confidence on a joke he had planned for some time to expose this particular parasite. Driving a recent trade-in to the lot, he pointedly asked this man what he thought of the car. The bait was infallible. "I worked on a deal on this car a few days ago. What was the customer's name?" the man asked. My boss spoke a Yiddish term. "That's it!" cried the salesman. "That word was "jerk" in Yiddish, you bum, and that's what you are," my boss replied, in complete victory.

I forgot the word for jerk now, But English will do. Our customers at Ames Ford will be loyal to the salesman who is loyal to them. Management will endeavor to earn their loyalty to the firm itself.

Army Leads Hub Softball Invitational

Presidio Army moved into a first place tie in the San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament last night by posting a 3-1 win over Nicasio Bisons.

The victory gives the San Francisco team a 3-0 tourney record and a share of the top spot with Two-Rock Army of Petaluma. The loss was Nicasio's second against one win and all but eliminates the Bisons from contention.

Sohner Tree Service (1-1) must win tonight against winless Peri's (0-2) if the Treemen are to keep any championship hopes alive. Game-time is 6:30 p.m. at San Anselmo's Memorial Park.

Presidio tallied twice in the first with Don Parrish driving in both markers with a two-out single to right.

Nicasio's Duane Irving scored in the third on a Presidio error but that was as close as the Bisons could come off the slants of Charlie Carattini who pitched a two-hitter.

Marin fans agreed today that last Monday evening's Two-Rock-Sohner's tilt was the best contest played in the three-year history of the tourney. Tournament Director Frank Quinn referred to it as, "One of the best games I've ever seen."

The game's lone run came in the top of the eighth when Ed Sassaman hit a lead-off single and eventually scored on Ron Brown's long sacrifice fly.

The Treemen put two runners on in the bottom half but could not score the tying marker.

As in Two-Rock's two earlier tourney victories, pitcher Denny Langford was the hero as he tossed a nifty three-hitter in beating Sohner's Lou Perazzo who scattered nine hits over the eight innings. Neither pitcher walked a man in a game played in exactly one hour.

Tommie Davis Goes Hitless As Dodgers Lose Another

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hand over that shoe horn, Joe Cronin.

The race over here in the National League is developing into a good thing to avoid if you have sticky heart valves.

You may recall that a few weeks back American League President Cronin was calling his scrambled flag battle a "shoe horn race."

Not so long after that, the Los Angeles Dodgers were making motions toward a National League runway. The San Francisco Giants put a stop to that with a weekend sweep.

Yesterday Jack Sanford won his 10th straight and Willie Mays hit his 36th home run as the Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 9-2.

For the Dodgers, Maury Wills was caught stealing, and Tommy Davis struck out, hit into a force play and two double plays —and Los Angeles dropped a 2-1 decision to Pittsburgh.

As a result, the Giants were within 1½ games of the Dodgers, and the shoe was getting tighter.

The flag hopes of the Cincinnati Reds, who are 6½ back in third, suffered a setback when they were beaten 5-4 by the Milwaukee Braves.

The St. Louis Cardinals, whose disgusted boss August Busch threatened to trade almost every one, including the peanut venders, dropped a 4-3 battle to Houston in 10 innings, when the winning run scored on an error.

The Philadelphia Phils and the New York Mets struggled for 15 innings before the Phils won 3-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees opened a 6-game bulge by beating Minnesota 5-2, while the second-place Los Angeles Angels were losing twice to Boston, 2-1 and 9-5. The Detroit Tigers beat Baltimore twice, 13-10 and 5-4, Kansas City edged Washington 6-5, and the Chicago White Sox whipped Cleveland 9-0.

TOO HOT—Los Angeles Angel manager Bill Rigney was a too hot in his protest yesterday to third base umpire Bill McKinley and was promptly toosed out of the game. Rigney protested McKinley's ruling that Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox had made a shoestring catch of Lee Thomas' liner for an out. (AP Wirephoto)

N.Y. Met Hurler Goes For 15 Innings—And Suffers Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Jackson of the New York Mets takes no satisfaction from the fact his 15-inning iron-man chore against the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday was the longest by a major league pitcher since 1959.

For 14 innings at the Polo Grounds, Jackson limited the Phillies to four singles and one run and kept on going inning after inning while the Mets flubbed one scoring chance after another. Then in the 15th the inevitable (for the Mets) happened.

First baseman Marv Throneberry muffed Tony Gonzales' grounder and Gonzales reached second. A bloop singled by Bob Oldis and a walk loaded the bases. Mel Roach, followed with a single for 2 RBI.

The Phils won it 3-1 and all Jackson had for 15 innings of work was his 15th loss. He's won six, three by shutouts.

"My arm felt a little weary," Jackson said, a little surprised when told he had thrown 215 pitches, "but never did I feel like I wanted to come out of the game. Mr. Stengel asked me three times. I told him I was fine." He referred to Manager Casey Stengel.

Netter Hit; Break For American

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., top seeded in the Newport Casino Invitational Lawn Tennis Tournament, was still in action today, thanks in part to a shot that hit his first round opponent in the face.

Cliff Drysdale of South Africa was leading the U.S. Davis Cupper 5-1 in the second set yesterday after taking the first set 6-4. Then a McKinley return hit Drysdale smack in the face. Shaken, Drysdale dropped the next six games and the set 7-5, then could win only one game in the third and deciding set. McKinley won the match, 4-6, 7-5, 6-1.

Jim Parker of St. Louis, who upset second seeded Whitney Reed of Alameda Monday, was no match for Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., and bowed 6-3, 6-2.

OAKLAND RAIDERS

'Subtraction,' Its Middle Name

OAKLAND (AP) — Take a doormat football team. Subtract its first-string quarterback, leading rusher, highest scorer, best kicker and top pass-receiver. What's left?

The Oakland Raiders.

At 2-12, the Raiders had the American Football League's worst record in 1961. They should be improved this year —but probably not enough to rise far in the standings.

While most of the other teams have concentrated on a single development program dating from the league's inception in 1960, the Raiders still are hunting for a nucleus around which to build a team.

"The league is going to be a lot stronger because the rookies from two years ago are coming into their own," says head coach Marty Feldman. "So how many guys do we have who were with us then? About five."

The casualty list of 1961 team leaders is incredible. Quarterback Tom Flores contracted a lung infection and probably is out for the season after completing more than half his passes for 2,176 yards a year ago.

Place-kicking halfback and leading scorer George Fleming reported so slowed-down that Feldman released him. Top rusher Wayne Crow was traded to Buffalo and end Doug Asad quit with a back injury.

Plus these, Oakland has lost Bob Coolbaugh, expected to succeed Asad as leading pass receiver, and Volney Peters, 9-year offensive line veteran. Both are hurt and Feldman is counting on neither this year.

Don Heinrich, longtime New York Giants quarterback, is attempting a comeback with the Raiders. He's drawing much of the pre-season camp interest because if he doesn't succeed, the Raiders are in trouble; and there simply aren't many other big names on the roster.

M. C. Reynolds, a former Louisiana Stater who came from Buffalo in the deal for Crow, has looked about like Heinrich in drills.

PINEAPPLE PETITS FOURS

French Inspired Petit Fours Make Elegant Party Accents

A moist fragrant pineapple chiffon cake provides the base for these elegant little party cakes. A can of crushed pineapple and accents of lemon peel and almond extract blend with the rich yet light batter for superb flavor and texture. It's baked in two 9-inch pans and cut into shapes when cold. A thin sugary icing is the glossy finish for each.

The French vary the shapes of the cakes and colors of icing to make many gorgeous types of petits fours from only one recipe. A choice of attractive garnishes, too, offers contrast.

The cake stays moist and fresh for at least a day or two. If you prefer, make it a day ahead, then allow one whole afternoon to be really creative with the icing and decorations.

PINEAPPLE PETITS FOURS

- 2½ cups sifted cake flour
- 1½ cups sugar
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup cooking oil
- 5 egg yolks, unbeaten
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
- ½ teaspoon almond extract
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 (14-ounce) can crushed pineapple
- 1 cup egg whites (7 or 8)
- ½ teaspoon cream of tartar

Resift flour with 1 cup sugar, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl. Make a well in center and add oil, egg yolks, lemon peel, almond, vanilla and undrained pineapple. Beat until well blended. Measure egg whites and cream of tartar into large bowl. Beat to soft peaks; gradually beat in remaining ½ cup sugar until very stiff. Gradually pour pineapple batter over whites, gently folding in until blended. Turn into 2 (9-inch) ungreased square pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes or until top springs back when lightly touched. Turn upside down resting edges of pan on upside down custard cups or pans. Do not let top of cake directly touch counter. Hang until cold. Remove from pans and make into petite fours. Makes 4 to 4½ dozen.

PETITS FOURS ICING: Mix together 5 cups sifted powdered sugar, ¼ cup pineapple juice or water, ¼ cup light corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla and few grains salt. Heat, stirring over low heat until of pouring consistency. Icing may be colored, if desired, by carefully stirring in a drop or two of food coloring.

TO MAKE PETITS FOURS: Cut cooled cake into small squares or rounds (about 1½ inches diameter) or into small rectangles or diamonds. Stick fork into bottom of each piece, hold over waxed paper and spoon on icing to cover sides. Always frost cakes with crust side down. Then, set cakes on racks over waxed paper and slowly pour or spoon icing on to cover tops. Sprinkle with plain or toasted coconut, finely chopped nuts, colored sugar or chocolate shot. Decorate with small cubes or crescents of pineapple, small whole strawberries or in any way desired. Let stand until icing is set. Icing that drops onto waxed paper may be scraped up, reheated and reused; be careful not to include any cake crumbs.

Orange Fruit Drink Is Cool Refresher

A pleasant fruit drink to dawdle over while the man of the house broils meat on the outdoor grill.

- 1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate
- 6 maraschino cherries
- 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice
- Juice of 1 small lemon (about 2½ tablespoons)
- Mint sprigs (if on hand)

Dilute the orange juice according to directions on can to make 24 ounces (3 cups). Place the cherries in 6 compartments in an ice-cube tray; add half (1½ cups) of the orange juice; freeze. Into remaining orange juice stir the maraschino cherry juice and lemon juice; cover; chill. At serving time, put the frozen orange juice cubes into 6 small (juice size) glasses, including a cherry cube in each; add the chilled orange juice mixture. Garnish with mint sprigs if used. Makes 6 servings.

TOP PEARS MANY WAYS

Sweet, juicy California Bartlett pears can be topped with any number of tidbits as cottage cheese with caraway and shredded cheddar, banana and sour cream with nutmeg, peanut butter and stuffed olive and liverwurst with relish.

This Egg Dish Something Special

Whether you're serving just the family or drop-in guests, this egg dish is something special.

SPECIAL SCRAMBLED EGGS

- 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
- 6 large eggs
- ⅓ cup light cream
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- White pepper to taste
- ¼ cup butter
- 1 tablespoon chopped chives

With a sharp knift dipped into very hot water, cut cream cheese into ¼-inch pieces; reserve. Beat eggs just enough to combine yolks and whites; add cream, salt and pepper; beat to combine. Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet until very hot. Add eggs; cook over moderate heat drawing egg away from sides as quickly as it sets. Shortly before eggs are entirely set, fold in cream cheese pieces and chives; cheese should only partly melt. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Know How To Coddle A Diet?

Weight watchers, be kind to yourselves.

Those diets get tiresome. Look out for changeovers that suit your particular regime.

Whenever you have a chance to do so—in restaurants, planes or trains—study menus. You may light on interesting combinations that you can cook up at home.

Do you realize that many public libraries have collections of cook books? Borrow some of the reducing diet variety. Choose recipes to use as given or to adapt.

When you're with friends and acquaintances, one thing is sure: sooner or later the conversation will turn to food. Try other weight watchers' recommendations.

Here are a few that may be new to you, or remind you of good dishes you can enjoy.

On occasion use vegetables other than the everyday ones.

DO YOU EVER serve artichokes? For calorie counters' information, a medium artichoke has 75 calories; for carbohydrate watchers' assurance, it's a 5 per cent vegetable.

To prepare artichokes, remove any hard outer leaves—there are sometimes a few of these. Cut off the tip of each leaf with a kitchen scissors. Cut the stem to make a level base. Drop the artichokes into several inches of boiling water. Cover the pan and boil gently until a leaf may be pulled out easily from the base and the heart is tender when pierced with a fork. Allow about half on hour cooking time for medium artichokes. Drain thoroughly and serves the artichokes hot or cold.

Artichokes are particularly satisfying for some dieters because they take a long time to eat! Pick up a leaf at a time, draw the bottom of it between your teeth and scrape off the interesting flavored pulp. When you get down to the small soft leaves and fuzz, cut them away. Then slowly savor the wonderful flavor of the heart.

SERVING THE artichokes hot? Melt a little of your butter allowance as a sauce in which to dip the leaves. Bringing them on cold? Treat the leaves to a dunk of whatever salad dressing you're using.

Give the artichokes a partner of tomato aspic or deviled eggs, or both, and they'll make a lunch or supper main course.

MUSHROOMS next. Here's an interesting idea from a British diet cook book author who says she picked it up at a party in Washington, D. C. Fill mushrooms with a mixture of crabmeat, grated cheese and seasonings and broil.

And cheese itself. One way we vary cottage cheese is by mixing it with another variety—grated cheddar, Swiss or a Danish-type speckled with caraway seed. You can use this combination with a green salad, or stuff tomatoes with it.

When we get bored with plain scrambled eggs for breakfast, we add diced sharp cheddar cheese. If this appeals to you, stir in the cheese just as the eggs set so that it will soften but not melt, and its flavor and texture will be clearly distinguishable.

Dessert? We came on this combination on the lavish buffet table of a New York hotel restaurant known for its fine food: frozen sliced peaches served with yogurt. Of course you can use canned peaches minus sugar syrup. When we offered the dessert with brandied peach halves, it was a big success.

Eggs And Sardines

For a new savory treat the next time you are scrambling eggs include a few tiny Norwegian sardines. As soon as the eggs begin to set, arrange the whole sardines over the eggs and cook a few minutes longer. Oh, so good.

Health Teams Mend Fractured Families

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Health teams now are trying to mend fractured families.

The teams rendering first aid when there's family breakdown include experts you might expect: psychologists, pediatricians, obstetricians.

But they also can include clergymen, lawyers, businessmen and teachers.

The teams aim to stop chronic conflict from spreading and to rehabilitate the fractured marriage.

The Family Service Assn. of America says such breakdown is as contagious as diphtheria since it blights whole groups of people.

EXPERTS WORKING the team way at a pioneer family clinic in Oklahoma City have achieved 90 per cent success in resolving marital problems.

A report in "Medicine at Work," a newsletter for doctors, cited the Oklahoma City experience. Word of the clinic's success during the last 15 years has crossed city and state lines and even the nation's borders.

Today, variations of the Oklahoma City family clinic are helping to re-establish tottering families in dozens of cities and villages in California, Texas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Oregon and several foreign countries.

At the clinics, couples are given a chance to "tell all" before a panel of physicians, lawyers, clergymen, financial experts, and other experts judged necessary.

Civic leaders started the Oklahoma City clinic in 1947 when figures showed the community—for its size—had the highest divorce rate in the nation.

UNDERLYING MOST family conflicts in that city were problems in health, law, finances and religious faith.

Panelists in Oklahoma City and elsewhere serve without pay.

The experts who lend their ears while the shattered couple detail complaints are guided by professional knowledge and also by research findings.

Some research is upsetting commonly accepted but not necessarily valid beliefs about marriage. Samples:

—Incompatible marriages can never endure. Drs. Marietta Houston and R. B. Forman of the Menninger Foundation found unshaking durability in 12 long-standing discordant marriages.

—Most marital crises arise from money, sexual maladjustment, lack of affection, fear of pregnancy, in-laws and inability to discuss domestic problems. More than 500 North Carolina physicians reported in a survey only the last point approached the truth of the matter.

Bliss Kelly, attorney and president of the Oklahoma City Family Clinic, once was asked to name the most frequent actual cause of marital breakdown.

"THERE IS none," he answered. "Each individual is different, and each couple has problems arising from differences which must be considered, analyzed and solved by recommendations applicable to the particular needs."

Dr. Clifford Kirkpatrick, Indiana University sociologist, says the basic problem in marriage is that "we all expect to eat our cake and have it.

"The couples who best succeed are those who develop the wisdom and strength of character to outgrow unrealistic expectations — and to recognize that marriage, like everything else in life, involves its dilemmas, its price for everything we get."

GAY ORD POLLOCK

Gay Pollock To Be Bride In December

A cocktail party at the Olympic Club at Lakeside last night was the occasion for the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Pollock of Sacramento of the engagement of their daughter, Gay Ord Pollock, to John Hampton Lynch of San Francisco.

Gay is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. J. Ord of San Rafael and the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Pollock. She attended Dominican Convent and was graduated from the Katharine Branson School. She attended the University of California and the University of Madrid and is an assistant buyer at Joseph Magnin, San Francisco.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Carter of Wilton, Conn. He attended Taft School in Watertown, Conn., and was graduated last year from Stanford University.

After a December wedding the couple will live in New York where the bridegroom will be employed by the First National Bank of New York City. John is the nephew of the late Dr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Moffitt and the late Mr. and Mrs. James K. Moffitt. His grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lynch and the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Starr.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Merrets Feting Daughter Zoe, Husband At Large Reception

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Dr. and Mrs. Russell John Merret are giving a reception Aug. 26 at their home in Kent Woodlands honoring their daughter, Zoe Elaine, and David George Lewis who were married in February at All Souls Unitarian Church in Colorado Springs, Colo. This will be the first visit of the newlyweds with Zoe's parents. About 200 friends have been invited to the reception.

Zoe, a recent graduate of Colorado College in Colorado Springs, transferred there from Mills College. She majored in psychology and in her senior year was assistant teacher in psychology at the college. Zoe has one sister, Paula Merret, who will be a senior at Lewis and Clark College in Portland this year. Mrs. Lester Logue of Pittsburgh, Pa. is the grandmother of the girls. Zoe is in the personnel department of the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs. She and her husband are residing at 621 Bark Terrace in Colorado Springs.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lewis of Calgary, Canada, will be graduated from Colorado College in January. He is on the college hockey team.

HOUSE GUESTS of the F. J. Staleys of Sleepy Hollow recently were her brother, Dr. K. D. Stalland of Valparaiso, Ind., and his wife. Doctor Stalland is dean of the law school at Valparaiso University. Doctor and Mrs. Stalland are godparents of the Staleys' only son, John.

In addition to visiting relatives and friends in the Bay Area, Doctor Stalland attended sessions of the American Bar Assn. convention in San Francisco.

FROM HONOLULU Claire Tilden of San Rafael wrote to tell me that she and Scott are having a marvelous vacation. They're staying at Diamond Head and Claire exclaims, "Marge Trumbull lives around the corner!" The Tildens are meeting a number of other Marinites. They had dinner with Charlie Reindollar and also enjoyed a visit with the George Lesters.

As Scott and Claire are landscape architects, they are particularly interested in the beautiful gardens of Hawaii, the colors of the flowering plants and the lush tropical growth.

IN SAN FRANCISCO Sunday I attended the dinner honoring my uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Valdemar Hornung, on their 62nd wedding anniversary. Mrs. Hornung, the former Gertrude Holland of Tomales, is a daughter of the Marin County pioneers, Franklin W. Holland and Julia Sargent Holland. Uncle Valdy is a member of the famous Hornung piano family of Copenhagen, Denmark. His grandfather, Conrad Christian Hornung, invented many of the features of the present-day pianos and headed the firm which manufactured the Hornung pianos. Uncle Valdy is the son of Conrad Christian Hornung, who established the C. C. Hornung piano firm in San Francisco in 1874. Uncle Valdy and Aunt Gert, who were married at his father's home in San Francisco Aug. 16, 1900, have two daughters, Mrs. Nye Souder of San Francisco, Mrs. William Chapman of San Mateo, and a son, Richard Hornung of San Francisco, who is associated with his father in the piano firm.

Uncle Valdy has many interests. He and Aunt Gert have traveled extensively and spent much time in Europe. He has a splendid collection of paintings by early California painters. He loves classical music and makes charming miniature rooms. He is a gourmet, and we enjoyed several of his special dishes Sunday. He is frequently mistaken for Herbert Hoover. Gathered at the festive table Sunday were 35 relatives and friends. The only person present who had been a guest at the wedding in 1900 was my other aunt, Miss Mabel W. Holland, for many years reporter of the Marin County Superior Court. She was the first woman court reporter in the state of California. A few months ago she sold her home on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael and moved to San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES CAMPODONICO of San Rafael have been vacationing at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach.

Don't Destroy Your Future, College Students Are Warned

I've known "Joan" since she was tiny. Last week she sent me a letter asking an important question. How would you answer it?

"Which matters most, honor or sex?" she asked, "I'm in college now. I listen to brilliant professors attacking my 'middle class standards.' I took a course in modern literature. I read book after book which glorified illicit sex, and made decency seem shameful. I go to movies and see that sin is fun. Every recent influence in my life teaches me that my parents were wrong about sex.

"Should I," she continued, "abandon my principles? Should I start being intimate with boys? Half the girls in the dorm have given in. They are more popular than I. Or should I remember what my folks said, and stay decent? Please help me to decide."

Here is my reply: "Joan, sex is important. But it is by no means the whole of life. Your parents may have underestimated the importance of physical love, yet they are much closer to the truth than the people you've been listening to. Life without honor is meaningless. Illicit sex is a shabby, guilt-provoking harmful experience. By all means, stay decent.

"I feel I should apologize to you and to your whole generation. You are being subjected to a barrage of indecency. Most of the people behind the barrage lack integrity. Authors and publishers find that smut is profitable, and so do movie producers. So far, our courts have protected them. Public opinion has not stopped them. No wonder you are puzzled. We adults should be ashamed.

"Sex between married people who love each other is creative and beautiful. Ultimately sex will be an important part of your ife. But don't destroy your future, as your friends are doing. Don't weaken, Joan. You'll never be sorry."

(Q) "I heard a speaker say that the majority of modern housewives were unfaithful to their husbands. Can this be correct?"

(A) The studies I've seen indicate that the majority of modern wives live up to their marriage vows. However, the percentage of those who don't seems to be rising. The trend appears to be in the wrong direction.

Curiosity Leads Kiddies To Stray From Safety's Paths

"Alone, spurred by curiosity and unprepared for the perils that may lie ahead, a small child wanders in nature's 'playground'.

"With luck, he will return safely. With thorough parental guidance and supervision his security need not depend on luck," according to Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety spokesman and medical director for an insurance company.

He pointed out that many local families this month will take outings in the mountains, at the seashore, in the country and elsewhere close to nature. Other families in suburban and rural areas live near natural terrain.

"Curiosity will lead youngsters of these families to explore and stray from the path of safety. Exploration can be beneficial only if parents teach their offspring common rules of safety and instill in them a sense of danger," the doctor said.

It takes only a moment for a child to wander off, he warned, adding that younger children must be watched constantly.

He endorsed the "buddy system" for older boys and girls—that there should always be at least two on any excursion so one could come to the aid of the other. He also pointed out that lessons learned in early youth may continue to offer protection as youngsters pass through their teens.

Supporting the important role played by the Scouts, YMCA, Red Cross and church and community youth centers and organizations, Dr. Domm suggested utilization of their programs and services in teaching children water safety, woodcraft and other lessons which can lead to a happier, healthier and safer life.

"When a child asks why he is not permitted to do something, explain—and be sure he understands and will remember—why he shouldn't engage in certain potentially dangerous activities," the child safety spokesman advised.

Dr. Domm offered the following tips for parents.

1. Stress the importance of staying on safe trails and avoiding short cuts.
2. Teach children to be careful near strange animals.
3. Train youngsters to go near or enter water only with parental permission.
4. Insist on shoes in areas where there might be broken glass, bits of metal, sharp stones or animals.
5. Explain why they should not climb trees or boulders or cross over or under fences where they might be shocked, cut or scratched.
6. Condition them to walk, not run, on ground which is slippery, pitted or littered with stones.
7. Discuss and enforce safety precautions pertaining to play with matches and sharp objects.
8. Identify poisonous plant life and warn children about touching or eating them.
9. Teach respect for the rules and laws of parks and other open areas.

Hospital Visitor Should Be Cheery

Steel yourself against being the "sadly remembering" type when visiting a friend in the hospital.

Dr. Claude L. Brown, reporting in "Hospitals," journal of the American Hospital Association, noted that this breed, loaded with news of earthquakes and catastrophies of other types, undermines confidence patients try to work up toward their physicians. You can tell if you're the sadly remembering type if you say—"You're looking like your father; you're aging so."

Potless, Panless Era Is Promised

That's the prediction of W. G. Genne, an executive of a paper cup manufacturer.

"By 1975, most homes will be equipped with electronic stoves that will cook whole meals on paper in a matter of minutes. Pots and pans will be made of paper and thrown out after use," said Genne. (UPI)

Then place the stems in a quart of fresh water, into which a chemical preservative has been added, or six teaspoonfuls of sugar and one of vinegar, SAF adds.

Housewife Should Work 8 Hour Day, Says A Homemaker

A career-girl housewife says women's work should be done —in just eight hours.

"Stick to an eight-hour day. Allow time for outside interests. You owe it to your husband to be more interesting," said Betty Bissell, who runs a home and helps her husband in his carpet-sweeper manufacturing business.

"Too many women let themselves go once they get married," she said. "Becoming domesticated is a normal procedure for women. But if you have a good brain, don't waste it.

"A woman is interesting because she has many interests. This is a greater challenge to a housewife because she isn't out in the world for her job. She's at home with four walls and four children."

To avoid stagnation and boredom, get out of the house more often, she advised. Organize your day, leaving time for coffee breaks. Play music while you work. Always try to look your prettiest when you do the most unglamorous chores.

"But most important — always make your schedule a breakable one." (UPI)

Nursery School President Is Pianist And Record Collector

Having studied piano for 10 years as a child, she is especially interested in piano, which forms the basis of the major part of her record collecting, her favorite hobby. Related interests are dancing and going to musicals.

A resident of Marin County for 12 years, Mrs. Kinney has been active in the Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School since March, 1960, and has previously held the positions of membership chairman and maintenance chairman.

"The school is sponsored by the College of Marin adult education program and meets each weekday from 9 to 11:30 p.m. at Almonte Hall," Mrs. Kinney said. "Any child from two years, nine months to five years may be enrolled."

A native of Berkeley, Mrs. Kinney is a graduate of Tamalpais High School. She has three children, Debra, 9, Steven, 5, and Shawn, 3.

MRS. DONNA KINNEY

She is also active in the Marin Girl Scouts, having served as a Brownie leader for two years, and in the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour. She enjoys working for Church World Service and will be teaching Bible school at the church at the end of this month.

Other officers serving the nursery school with Mrs. Kinney are Mesdames Leighton Hatch, vice president; Gerald Vanoni, secretary; and Patrick Prather, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mesdames William Cary, membership; James Langton, scheduling; Manuel Lehua, maintenance; and Harvey Muntzel and Roland DeMarais, council members. Mrs. Elizabeth Whitney will return as director of the school, which is located at Wisteria Way and Almonte Boulevard in Mill Valley.

We're Proud Of Reservists, Happy To Have Them Home

Marin County's contributions to the emergency fighting force called into service during the Berlin crisis last year are back home again and off active duty.

We are both proud of and grateful to these 27 enlisted men and one officer who were plucked from their regular lives last October.

We can thank God that there was no need for them to go farther than Fort Lee, Va., or become more active in the defense of our homes than 10 months of training and maneuvers.

It is difficult to be snatched from normal work and family life and placed in uniform unexpectedly. Certainly they belonged to a reserve unit and knew they were eligible for such a possibility. But so are literally thousands of other Marinites, and they weren't called.

It is even more difficult when the threat to our homeland is rather intangible. It was much easier to be activated after Pearl Harbor when we were fighting for our lives, than last October when only bluster and threats seemed to be the reason.

So we can be proud that our reservists not only served their full time, but they did so with distinction and without becoming involved in the bickering and complaints which came from some reserve units.

We aren't saying our boys didn't think things—some might even have let a few words of criticism escape their lips (morale is low if there is no griping). But they accepted the particular brand of service which their country requested responsibly and effectively — we have the word of their commanding general for that.

Thus we salute the members of the 94th Quartermaster Platoon, thank them for their service and pray they never will be called to duty again—and that prayer goes for all reserve units.

Colors Of The Spectrum

Marin's birds really run the color spectrum. From the bold, ever-present Blue Jay to the shy, rather flighty Goldfinch, we have them all.

For blue we have the Jays and the Lazulai Buntings. For green we have our multitudes of Hummingbirds. The yellow is our Goldfinch and the orange is the proud chest of the Robin clan. The red might be our Linnets or the ruby throats of our Hummers.

We might go on and on. Our birds are bits of winged color flashing about the garden. They are one of Nature's ways of brightening our lives.

DECLINES RAISE IN SALARY

Would you refuse a salary raise if you thought your job did not merit it? One official in the Philippines did just that.

When he saw a proposal in the budget to raise his salary from $6,000 to $8,000 a year, he gratefully declined it. He felt that he was receiving adequate compensation for the service he was rendering.

Those willing to have government economy start with their own paychecks are few and far between.

Yet little progress will ever be made unless one person after another feels that "government is my business and it is my responsibility as much as it is anyone's to see that all phases of government are run efficiently and economically."

If you first put into personal practice your suggestions for improving public affairs or raising the moral tone of literature and entertainment, you will be doing what the Lord Himself advocates.

You will also bring about results that never would be achieved by any amount of fault-finding.

"Cast out the beam from your own eye, and then you will see clearly to cast out the speck from your brother's eye."
(Luke 6:24)

Remind me to start with myself, O Jesus, in changing the world for the better.

Try On This Description And If It Fits You Are Middle-Aged

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you middle-aged?

Middle age is like heaven in one respect—many people respect it, but few are in any hurry to get there.

It is a condition that is measured more by your actions and how you feel than the mere number of your years. A man of 35 may be middle-aged while one of 50 is still a mere overripe adolescent.

There is no doubt, however, when a woman reaches middle age: It is the day when she publicly admits for the first time that she is 60 at last. This is usually the day before her 62nd birthday, when she applies to Uncle Sam for Social Security.

Men are the borderline cases. But a man is probably middle-aged if—

His wife, instead of asking how he slept the night before, inquires, "How did you rest?"

He dreams more about his job than he does about romance.

He spends more time discussing the unpredictability of the weather than the unpredictability of women.

When he opens his morning paper, he turns first to the obituary columns, second to the business news section, and third to the sports pages.

He is convinced anyone who skis or goes camping is nuts.

He clearly remembers Babe Ruth's lifetime total of home runs, but thinks Mickey Mantle is a new-style cloak for ladies originated by a Dublin designer.

On paydays he brings his paycheck home, and can't recall offhand when he cashed one himself.

Following the example of his children, he calls his wife "Mother" instead of by the pet nickname he once used.

He wakes up before the alarm clock goes off—and lies there remembering old times.

HE CAN'T HUM ANY tune that became popular in the last five years.

At a cocktail party he talks only to people he already knows.

Any dinner guest in his own home who stays after 11 p.m. becomes a mortal enemy.

HE KNOWS EXACTLY how many years, months, weeks and days it is until he gets his pension.

As he goes through his daily routine of living, the question he silently asks of himself most often is, "When does the fun begin?"

Visiting Supervisor Spoke Out Of Turn

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is presumed that all taxpayers in Marin County are elated over the fact that the North Coast County Supervisors' Association held the "first meeting in history" at the new Civic Center in Santa Venetia. Political talk was no doubt the center of all conversation, including the Robot 1401. Which leads up to remarks made by one supervisor.

Quote: "The village idiot always gets written in for some office." It was further stated that individual members of the election board "don't know what they're signing anyhow." Un-quote.

Could it be that this Gentleman from the North considers all voters as idiots? From all indications this gentleman does not have too much respect for the "individual member of any election board."

Most voters and citizens consider the members of a board of supervisors as having a little above the average intelligence, but after reading the quote from the Gentleman from the North, this may be a very debatable subject. Our members of the board in Marin County have always withheld such tactics in the past, and it is hoped that none of the remarks above quoted will be used by our members at any time in the future.

This is my reaction to the front page reading on Aug. 10. It may not serve any purpose to print. It may be that a copy of the paper be sent to Del Norte County for the paper to copy in that area.

Still Using The Prefix

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Supervisors were told by state officials that funds were insufficient for building a road from Point Reyes Lighthouse to Drake's Estero.

20 YEARS AGO

San Rafael gave its police department the third pay raise of the year, actually a revision of the second which like the first was 5 per cent.

The County Planning Commission voted, on recommendation of Dist. Atty. A. E. Bagshaw, to locate a garbage dump site somewhere in the county through condemnation proceedings.

First redwood lumber was shipped to San Rafael from the new A. H. Ruoff sawmill on the Shafter estate, two miles up Lagunitas Creek in the midst of 2,400 acres of redwood and fir trees.

FOR WHOM THE BELL TOLLS

Missile Must Be Seen To Be Believed, Hated

By DAVID WISE

WASHINGTON — In Hiroshima, a few days ago, a girl named Junko Matsuoka tolled the "peace bell" during ceremonies reminding the world of another day in August 17 summers ago.

The atomic age is the only one Miss Matsuoka has known, for she was but a few months old when the flames and horror came and took the lives of her parents and 78,000 others.

Not unrelated to the tolling of the bell was the explosion by the Soviet Union of an atomic weapon on the island of Novaya Zemlya, the start of a new test series. The first blast was estimated at equal to 40 million tons of TNT. The bomb that exploded in Hiroshima was equal to 20 thousand tons.

IN GENEVA, this August, the test-ban negotiators for East and West are sparring again, as they have since 1958. On Johnston Island, the United States is repairing a launching pad that may be used to set off a high-altitude nuclear blast.

Today, both sides have missiles. Yet, a missile in the abstract does not mean much. It must be seen to be believed.

LAST SPRING, White House reporters had a chance to see the latest and best in United States missiles at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

It was late in the afternoon when we arrived, and the sun was hanging low over the Pacific. There, by the peaceful sea, Vandenberg sprawls for thousands of acres.

THE VISIT BEGAN with the firing of an Atlas missile. The huge missile, bigger than a locomotive, which had only a second before stood gleaming like a silver bullet in the sun, belched flame and slowly roared upward. It arched out to sea, spewing white fire, and was gone. Moments later, the Air Force announced it had landed on target, thousands of miles away.

But only when we had gone further, to a windy hilltop overlooking the sea, did the meaning of Vandenberg become clear. There, we were permitted to inspect the silos that house the Minuteman, a solid-fuel, second generation ICBM, which is considered almost invulnerable because it rises from the ground as Polaris rises from the sea.

The missilemen, the new elite corps of the Air Force, were there—blue-uniformed colonels in hard, white hats. They explained that Minutemen were being installed in similar underground silos at bases all over the country.

THE SILO, really a monster hole in the ground, a giant gun barrel embedded in the earth, looked to be 20 feet across. Out of its jaws could rise a hurtling mountain of metal, tipped with an atomic warhead. In 15 minutes, more or less, it could land in Kiev, Leningrad, or Moscow.

After that we saw the Titan complex. Titans, like Minutemen, are buried below ground. They must be elevated to be fired. The double doors of the great concrete hatches open slowly, and the missile rises between them, reaching for the heavens.

THERE IS ONLY one thing even more horrendous than gazing into the black maw of a Minuteman silo. That is the knowledge that they are absolutely necessary.

Somewhere in the vast Russion heartland, there are Soviet bases with similar missiles poised to destroy New York, Chicago and Detroit.

That is the measure of how far man has progressed in the year of our Lord, 1962. Therefore, ask not for whom the bell tolls in August at Hiroshima.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Would It Be 'Bonarue' To Be Ejected From San Quentin On 'Rusty-Dusty'

What's your "rusty-dusty"? Think twice before you answer. Because if you know, it could be a tip-off on your age, your criminal record, or both.

A mighty delicate way of putting it, especially considering the point of publication of the booklet as one of the finer products of San Quentin Prison. And "rusty-dusty" is, or was, prison argot.

"CASING THE JOINT" is quite a scholarly work. But if ever my status is changed from Honorary Inmate of San Quentin to Regular Dues-Paying Inmate, I have a project. It will be to bring "Casing the Joint" up to date.

It evidently was printed during World War II for there are such gags as that there should be service flags on the doors of "drums" (cells) formerly accupied by boys paroled to go to the front lines.

I'm indebted to Guard Capt. Carl G. Hockie for what is perhaps the only surviving copy of this compilation of jests and glossary of prison slang.

Hockie let Associate Warden Louis S. Nelson have the booklet. Nelson got his permission to pass it on to me after a discussion of the word "bonarue," so I called up to say thank you.

"WATCH OUT HOW you use that word 'rusty-dusty,'" warned Hockie. "It's out of date and you'll be giving away your age, same as though you said 'Oh, you kid!' or 'Twenty-three skidoo!'"

But "bonarue" has been around a long time and is still current. Nelson thinks it may have originated on Devil's Island. Certainly it seems French, probably derived from "bonne rue" or "good street."

All authorities agree that it has an agreeable connotation. Actually it seems to hold as many shades of meaning as Hawaii's "aloha." But in general it means "classy" or "the best," these being two definitions from "Casing the Joint."

While I haven't tried to weed out the obsolete from the current slang, or to sort out prison talk from ordinary thieves' jargon, here are a few definitions from the booklet:

A "FISH" IS a new inmate, an escapee is a "lamster" who's "hung it on the bush," "pogie" is the hospital, the "scraper" is the barber, "on the Erie" is to eavesdrop, "gowed" is under influence of dope, to "clout" is to steal, to "dog-eye" is to scrutinize, an "ink-fay" is a fink or informer. If a complaint is a "bum beef" you're innocent.

It's amazing how many of the words listed have become current outside. I think most folk understand the meaning of "Casing the Joint" as well as such words as rod, snipe, fin, ankle, frail, wino, scoff, dick and stir.

You might think you knew the meaning of "beef line" but at San Quentin that's not a line-up of complainants, but of men against whom charges have been made.

AMUSING but a bit pathetic were a series of gags about "when I'm warden" — sandwiches to be served with coffee and ice-cream cones every Sunday, swimming and fishing in the bay to be encouraged, the cell block's loud morning gong to be changed for chimes playing "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning!"

But the wry, sometimes grim, humor of "Casing the Joint" and the San Quentin News column "Bastille By the Bay" give a good deal of insight.

I'd just as soon get my info that way, chum.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Federal income tax officials have gotten used to tossing out some might farfetched deduction claims by ingenious taxpayers. The head of the Brooklyn bureau admits, however, that one delinquent came up with an explanation that hit a new high for sheer, unadulterated gall. This chap had been caught red-handed, claiming an exemption for supporting his mother—who had been dead a mere matter of 10 years! His explanation (given with a catch in his voice): "Mother's still alive in my heart!"

An octogenarian friend of Bill Feather confessed to him sadly, "I can see pretty well with my bifocals, and hear pretty well with my new invisible hearing aid, and eat pretty well with my new teeth, but my, I do miss my mind!"

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bridge Is A Serious Game So Who Is Laughing Now?

"You're too frivolous," a friend remarked to me a couple of weeks ago at the national bridge tournament. "Why don't you write some columns to make it clear that bridge is real and bridge is earnest."

Opening lead — ♣ 9

Nothing could be more serious than an international bridge championship, and I therefore take my hand from that deep source of serious bridge. Keep your eyes peeled now, for some sparkling expert bridge.

West opened the nine of clubs, and South congratulated himself when the dummy appeared o nthe table. He hadn't made the mistake of bidding too much. He was sure to lose two trump tricks, the ace of diamonds, and the ace of clubs. Game was out of the question, so he could relax and play at his comfortable part - score contract.

Declarer played low from the dummy, and East played low also, assuming that his partner had led the top of a worthless club holding. (Incidentally, this is why most experts refrain from leading the nine from such a holding as West's.) South won with the singleton king of clubs, somewhat to his surprise.

STEALS DIAMOND

South next led the nine of diamonds and stole a trick with dummy's queen when West played low. He returned a low club from dummy, on which East put up the ace, since East still thought that South must have the jack of clubs.

South ruffed out the ace of clubs, and led a heart to dummy's king to discard the king of diamonds on the established queen of clubs. By this time South had put the aces of clubs and diamonds to sleep, but more was to come.

South ruffed a diamond and led a low trump from his hand. West stepped up with the king of spades, only to lose to his partner's singleton ace. The ace of trumps was the only card the defenders couldn't toss away, but South made the rest of the tricks.

Alcatraz End Is In Sight, But What Fate For Isle?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The end is in sight for Alcatraz Prison and the question is: "What to do with The Rock?"

Many suggestions have been offered, including one that the island in San Franicsco Bay be given back to the birds.

The government, discovering it would cost five million dollars to repair and renovate the crumbling prison, announced it would gradually close it down during the next three years.

The announcement came after three Dixie bank robbers used sharpened tablespoons to enlarge an air vent hole in their cells and escape the island. They were believed to have headed for nearby Angel Island, but their fate is still not known.

Now San Franciscans are having a field day proposing what to do with what is perhaps their No. 1 tourist attraction.

The most popular suggestion is to place a statue on the 12-acre island, similar to the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor. It might depict St. Francis, patron saint of San Francisco. It could be another Pacifica, theme figure of the 1939-40 San Francisco fair. It might even be a California bear perched atop a concrete replica of Mt. Shasta.

Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco suggested a statue that signifies the growth of the West and the city as gateway to the Orient.

"But every time you talk about art in this city you have more art critics than you have artists," he said.

He urged that President John F. Kennedy appoint a commission to decide on an appropriate statue. He suggested a commission because "once you let the government get its foot in the door, they'll help foot the bill."

A letter to the editor of a newspaper noted that the Spanish in 1775 named the island "Isla de Alcatrages"—Island of Pelicans—for the birds which inhabited it in abundance.

"So let's return it to the pelicans, from whom it was taken 100 years ago," wrote the bird-lover.

Alcatraz was privately owned until 1850 when the war department took it over because of its strategic location inside the Golden Gate. It was used as a fort until the 1906 earthquake when San Francisco jail inmates were transferred there for safekeeping.

The "Rock" was an Army prison from 1907 to 1933 when title passed to the Department of Justice, which converted it into a maximum security prison.

Another suggestion for the island is to turn it into a United Nations headquarters of the West, where replicas of the beauty spots of the world could be displayed. Countries would be invited to contribute miniatures of such wonders as the Taj Mahal, Tivoli Gardens, Mexico City's floating gardens and the Louvre for all to see.

One man proposed an amusement park, to be called "Disneyland on the Rocks."

Another would like to see a museum, combined with a polar pool complete with glaciers, icebergs and an active miniature nuclear submarine. Beside it would be a south seas pool with rainbow-colored fish and an occasional glimpse of live mermaids swimming through underwater gardens.

In any case, nothing will be done for three years until the last of the prisoners leave "The Isle of Pelicans" for a new federal prison at Marion, Ill. Then the general services administration will either sell it or turn it over to another government agency.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin Merchants Follow U.S. Trend In Opening Monday Nights

Decision of San Rafael retail merchants to remain open on Monday nights as well as Fridays after Labor Day follows a nationwide trend to observe more evening hours.

Generally, downtown merchants have been disinclined to extend their evening schedules. Smaller store owners in particular have felt that the greater volume does not justify increased demands on their time nor warrant additional sales personnel.

But changing patterns have taken many customers to outlying shopping centers where night openings are becoming more prevalent. Surveys show retailers are reporting all the way from 25 to 60 per cent of their business after 5:30 p.m. Some say Monday nights are developing the best evening business of the week. And apparently there is no dropoff in daytime business because of it.

Now observing Monday evening hours are Macy's, Penney's, Lachman Bros., Payless Drug Store and Woolworth's. More openings should draw out more shoppers.

KURTZ KRAFT CORP. that recently moved its plastic operations to 97 Louise Street, San Rafael, has also reincorporated, with a new associate in the person of Gordon Blumenfeld of Greenbrae, along with Albert and Joan Kurtz of Inverness.

Its business is injection moldings of plastic items—both in the hobby-craft field (wholesale) and custom work in advertising novelties, medical and professional supplies.

Particular specialty is tiny, high quality precision plastic parts. Hobbycraft items include model railroad sets and handicraft kits.

GEORGE AND EDITH WEATHERSTONE who took over Scooter's Pet Cottage in Novato from Betty Siler last December have added dog trimming to their services. They will also act as agents for Andy Anderson's new training kennels under construction—ready about Sept. 8. Complete obedience instruction.

NEW ADDRESS for Accurate TV and Electronics in Mill Valley is now 9 Throckmorton Avenue—moved from 25 Corte Madera Avenue.

NOT ALL AMATEUR painters live in Sausalito, though this city undoubtedly has the biggest share of them.

John Minton's amateur oil painting contest at Creative Arts, Sausalito, turned up 16 who will be selected to produce a painting by Aug. 28. But only six of them are Sausalito residents. The rest are scattered throughout the county.

Nine of them, however, are housewives. Three students, two in the business world and two in the writing field.

Minton also has another competition for model car enthusiasts. Finished models are due at his store Aug. 27.

MOTORCRAFT. Pontiac completed production of 1962 models last week; production of parts for the 1963 run will begin in a few days and assembly operations on Sept. 4. . . Studebaker's Avanti has been delayed by improper tooling and first cars are just being shipped. They'll be considered 1963 models. Introduction of 1963 Lark, Hawk and Cruiser is scheduled for Oct. 4. . . Most dealers do not expect big carryovers of '62s into the new model year even though present inventories are heavy. . . Last month's sales of American-made cars were the highest for July since 1955 and up almost 22 per cent from last year. Total sales reached 511,700.

Parole Denied Convicted Holdup Man

Parole has been denied and rescheduled for consideration a year hence for convicted holdup man William Lawrence Hart, 27, who is serving an indeterminate sentence in San Quentin Prison.

The action was taken at the July 30 meeting of the Adult Authority. Hart was convicted in October, 1958, of second degree robbery for his part in a $200 holdup of a San Anselmo drug store in July, 1958.

The authority granted parole to Earl Stanley Mara, first convicted of burglary in Contra Costa County in 1953 and sent back to prison in 1956 for a burglary attempt in Marin County.

Mara, with a term of nine and one-half years to serve, was granted parole effective Oct. 1 to go to his family in Hawaii.

Parole was denied Edward A. Perry Jr., serving a second term for escape in 1957 from Chino, where he was confined for a burglary the same year in Marin County. His new term was fixed at three years, to be served consecutively with the burglary sentence.

The board recommended no further consideration for parole.

Deadline For Objections Told

Deadline for objections to be filed on the plan of the McCarthy Loch Lomond Marina to dispose of about 9,000 cubic yards of dredged material on the tidelands of San Rafael Bay has been set for Sept. 4.

The San Rafael Marina has applied for a Department of the Army permit to dump the material from maintenance dredging of its private channel into an area 1,000 by 200 feet which is exposed at mean low water and contains numerous rocks.

The disposal area is west of the private channel and 500 feet north of the federal channel.

Objections may be submitted in triplicate to the U. S. Army Engineer District office at 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

Planning Partners From Marin Told

City and regional planning consultant Sydney H. Williams of Mill Valley has announced formation of a partnership with Corwin R. Mocine of Berkeley.

The new planning firm will be known as Williams and Mocine, with offices in San Francisco. Williams lives at 209 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley. He prepared the Sausalito master plan in 1959.

Mocine is a professor at the University of California, president of the American Institute of Planners, and former planning director for the cities of Berkeley, Oakland, and Phoenix, Ariz.

Death Sentence In $4 Slaying

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge yesterday sentenced Harold A. Spencer to die in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber for killing a taxicab driver during a $4 robbery.

Superior Judge Leroy Dawson said he was following the recommendation of a jury that convicted Spencer Aug. 1 of first degree murder.

The jury found that Spencer, of Wichita, Kan., shot and killed cabbie Richard Heathman, 35, in his cab last May 5.

No execution date was set pending the outcome of an appeal motion filed by Spencer's attorney.

Crab Sign Stolen

A large red sign in the form of a crab was stolen from the Sausalito Boat and Tackle Shop Monday night, owner Richard A. Urbais reported to the sheriff.

'Buddies' System Helps Mentally Sick Patients

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Lloyd, a 54-year-old patient at Mendocino State Hospital, was silent and withdrawn for many years, never acknowledging anything said to him.

Last May, psychiatrists tried something new. He was placed in a group of seriously withdrawn schizophrenic patients. They were given "buddies," patients who were not withdrawn, but who were alcoholics.

The patients all received work assignments in kitchens, dining rooms and other hospial facilities. The alcoholic patients taught the others how to do their jobs.

Lloyd was one of three withdrawn patients assigned with an alcoholic in a dining room. At first, the three had to be shown how to do the simplest chores.

They found it hard to remember, didn't care about personal appearance and looked glum.

Today, Lloyd and the others are prompt, cheerful and efficient. They no longer need their "buddies" so the alcoholics moved onto another withdrawn group.

Of the three, Lloyd showed the most improvement. John Hanlong, a senior psychiatric technician, commented:

"I remember the first day Lloyd's buddy brought him home from work. When he left him at the unit door, he said 'See you tomorrow.' Lloyd grinned—he actually grinned at him! Now he and the others look forward to their jobs. It's amazing."

State Fair First Held In San Francisco

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The California State Fair, which opens at the end of August, was first held in a music hall and Mission Delores in San Francisco in 1854.

The big exhibits were vegetables, fruits and flowers, with plenty of waxworks, shells, minerals and farm implements. Livestock was shown at the mission.

A year later, horse racing was added and the fair moved to Sacramento. Some of the exhibits were shown in the State Assembly chamber.

The next year, it moved to San Jose and then to Stockton and finally to Marysville. In 1859, the fair was held in Sacramento and in 1861, the capital city was finally selected as permanent fair site.

The exposition was first held at the present site in 1909.

And now, the state has purchased 1,065 acres along the historic American River in Sacramento for a new fair.

Marin Youth Going Abroad

Riley Sutthoff, 19, son of Mrs. John R. Sutthoff, 18 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, will sail from New York Friday for a year of study at Georgetown University's overseas campus at Fribourg, Switzerland.

A scholarship student at Georgetown, Riley is a 1960 graduate of St. Ignatius High School, San Francisco. His study in Switzerland will be his junior year.

He is majoring in economics. His study abroad will be mostly economics, with some French, his mother said.

Riley will have a brief tour of England before going to Tours, France, where he will spend a month studying French. The school year starts Oct. 15 at Fribourg.

'Old Adobe Days' Set In Petaluma For This Weekend

I-J Special Report

PETALUMA — The colorful days of the Dons will be relived here Saturday and Sunday when Petaluma stages a celebration centered on the huge Vallejo Adobe, one of the Redwood Empire's historic landmarks.

Gen. Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo built the Adobe — an imposing two-story fortress—near Petaluma in the 1830s as Mexico's northern outpost against the Russians and the Indians.

It has been restored and is now a state monument.

Petaluma's "Old Adobe Days" will include street and folk dancing Saturday; an Old California-style pit barbecue Sunday, and a Saturday night boat race on Petaluma Creek.

San Jose School Museum Discussed

Plans to establish a historical museum for the San Jose School District were discussed by district trustees Monday night.

The museum, which would be located in building S-1004 at the district's administrative offices on Hamilton Air Force Base, would include displays of student work from schools in the district and historical relics and artifacts of the Novato area.

The exterior, Supt. Ralph Giovanniello told trustees, has already been painted with murals of early Greek and Roman history during an earlier student project. Work on the museum would be done voluntarily by teachers and pupils.

Giovanniello said he has seen only one other such museum, in Paris. Trustees postponed decision on the museum to their next meeting.

Trustees appointed attorneys Bohnert, Davis and McCarthy of San Francisco to represent the district in a lawsuit against Howard Construction Co., a sub-contractor for Reynolds Construction Co. on San Jose Intermediate School, completed last January.

The lawsuit was brought by Clearview Corp., for non-payment by Howard Construction Co. of $5,207.16 for building materials, according to Giovanniello. The sum is insured by American Casualty Co. of Pennsylvania, he said.

The board also:

1. Appointed Ayrles Cadd, eighth grade teacher at San Jose Intermediate School, as vice-principal at that school. Cadd has been with the district three years.

2. Agreed to arrange meetings with the Novato School District board to discuss unification of the two districts. The unification proposal has been rejected by voters three times.

3. Accepted resignations of Mary Lou Mitchell, a district teacher on leave of absence who wishes to remain overseas, and Sandy Brousseau, who has been hired as principal of a school near San Luis Obispo.

Saturday Is Deadline For Art Fair Entries

Saturday is the deadline to apply for participation in the Sausalito Art Fair to be held Sept. 1, 2 and 3, Russell H. Papenhausen, president of the sponsoring Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, said today.

Applications may be sent to Helen Kerr, director, Sausalito.

Papenhausen announced that Andre Boratko and Eric Stearne, both east bay residents, will be judges for the art show.

Marin Soldier Trains

Army Pvt. Hans M. Halberstadt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Halberstadt, 96 Hillside Avenue, San Anselmo, recently completed the five-week aircraft maintenance entry course at the Aviation School, Fort Rucker, Ala.

One-Room School Spanking Clean

They have hired a new teacher, Mrs. Jonne Myerson of Fairfax, for the one-room Union School on Petaluma-Point Reyes Road.

It was no formal reception nor afternoon tea. Mothers, teacher and trustees all went to work to give the school building a thorough scrubbing. It'll be spanking clean when Mrs. Myerson opens classes Sept. 4.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Very Little Can Be Done For Trichinosis After First Stages

VAN DELLEN

Trichinosis (trich-i-no'sis) is the disease that humans get from eating raw or inadequately cooked pork. It is caused by worms (trichinas) that spend most of their lives curled up in the muscles of an infected pig. The worm is incased in a cocoon-like membrane or cyst that is dissolved by the digestive juices when a person consumes this meat at dinner.

The parasites are now free to move about the intestine where they grow, mate, and produce young. At this stage the individual may not know he is playing host to the parasites unless they are abundant enough to irritate the intestines, leading to nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea for 24 to 48 hours.

THEREAFTER, the parent worms pass out of the intestines but the offspring penetrate the wall of this structure and get into the blood. From here, they travel to all parts of the body, invading the muscles. In this location, they grow for another three weeks, coil up, and hibernate in the same way as did their parents in the muscles of the pig.

This process is disabling when thousands of worms are looking for muscles in which to settle. The victim encounters fever, pain, and headache. When the parasites settle in the tissues, the face becomes puffy, the muscles are tender to the touch, and there may be soreness of the eyes, throat, and chest. A massive infestation may be followed by delirium, coma, and death.

THERE IS NO treatment after the young parasites invade the blood and muscles. In this respect, it is fortunate the majority of victims get well spontaneously. The best remedy is prevention. Eating small amounts of highly infested pork may cause no illness or only minor symptoms but never take a chance.

Cooking pork well is the best way to avoid the disease. Test doneness by cutting into the thickest part of the meat; if it is still pink it is not well done. Recently, researchers reported good results with a new drug, thiabendazole. It is given to animals to prevent the disease.

(To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted.

Dr. Van Dellen will not make dagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.)

NECK NODULES

S. K. writes: My adult son has had many nodules on the back of his neck for a long time. I massage them every day after his shower but this doesn't seem to help. Could you tell me what to do about them?

REPLY

The nodules may be enlarged glands or fatty tumors. They should not be massaged. Suggest that he visit his physician to find out what the nodules are and why they have developed.

UNTREATED BURSITIS

J. G. writes: Will bursitis get worse if not treated by a doctor?

REPLY

Yes, but there always is the possibility that it might remain the same or get better. A severe bursitis of the upper arm that fails to improve after a few weeks might lead to stiffness of the shoulder. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on bursitis.

DOCTOR KNOWS BEST

M. T. writes: I have an enlarged heart which my doctor says not to worry about. But people tell me this is serious. I do trust my doctor but worry about my condition.

REPLY

Enlargement varies from 1 to 100 per cent and a moderate enlargement is not serious. It is more important to know the cause of this condition.

CAN'T CATCH IT

F. K. writes: Is pustular psoriasis contagious?

REPLY

The cause of psoriasis is not known but there is no evidence that it is contagious or infectious. In the pustular form, the pustules do not harbor germs.

Western Revue Tryouts Set In Novato Friday

Final tryouts for "Frontier Fling," the Novato Community Club's fall show, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday at the community clubhouse, 906 Machin Avenue, Novato.

Parts for the Western musical comedy and revue still to be filled include the heroine, Penelope Plumwhistle, a sweet young thing from Kansas City; Ha Ha Minnie, daughter of Big Chief Horse Sits on the Ground., and Sadie, a has-been dance hall girl of the Wild West.

Director Paul Terry said places are open for those with musical numbers and individual acts. Persons requiring musical accompaniment should call Mrs. Robert Kone, musical director, before Friday, he said.

Actors cast thus far for the show, which will play Nov. 2-3 and Nov. 9-10, include Alex Consagra as Wyatt Burp, sheriff of Novato Gulch; Robert Kone as Matt Basterson, the hero-villain; Robert Hindmarch as Redeye, the town drunk; Dr. Lee Wagner as the friendly undertaker; Robert Patterson as bartender; William Hints, Indian chief, and George McDaniel and William Condon as two Indian medicine men.

3 Priests Mistaken For Gunmen

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — The Rev. Roland Gauther of Montreal and two other priests were driving through the peaceful college town of Princeton, N.J., when five policemen surrounded their car, guns drawn.

As the French speaking father described it in a written protest to New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes:

"The state trooper rudely ordered us to get out of the car, always aiming us with his revolver, he fumbled (searched) us, one after the other, just in the middle of the street, and he examined our baggage, always in the middle of the street."

Hughes has apologized. The governor's brother is a priest and so he knew why the better part of Princetown's police force had roared to the town's rescue.

The priests had chosen the wrong moment to change from sport shirts to rabbats. The rabbat is a backless, sleeveless shirtfront attached to a Catholic Priest's trousers by straps. Hughes explained to Father Gauthier:

"The events which led to your embarrassment were initially created by a report made to the state police by a citizen that a 1962 car southbound, with a Quebec registration number, contained three men who had been seen putting on a shoulder holster and gun.

"Because of the coincidencc that my brother is a Catholic priest and has often been at my home, I am familiar with the outward appearance of this change of clothing. It indeed resembles very much, in my opinion, the appearance (at least as far as the movies depict it) of the assumption of a shoulder holster."

Father Gauthier is a member of the Order of the Congregation of the Holy Cross and superior at St. Joseph's Oratory in Montreal. He and his companions had run into the police on May 7 while visiting Princeton University to consult its index of Christian art.

The priest wrote to Hughes of the "absolutely ridiculous" affair seeking an explanation. The governor's reply concluded:

"I sincerely regret the occurrence of the incident and hope that you will accept this explanation of it. We, in New Jersey, are most proud of our state and local police."

CARRYING OUT OLD CUSTOM

4 Members Of Family New Citizens

When four members of the Bankmann family in San Rafael recently achieved simultaneous naturalization as American citizens, it was just carrying out an old family custom.

There have been relatives of both Willi Walter Bankmann and his wife Ursula in the United States for at least half a century past, they declare beamingly.

Actually at the family home at 124 Reservoir Road there is a 3-year-old predecessor in citizenship, little Ralph, who was born here and who thus was first of his immediate branch of the family to achieve full-fledged American status.

Moreover, in addition to 19-year-old Linda Sigrid Bankmann and Marion Helene, 20, who are among the four just naturalized, there's their younger brother Michael, 16, who achieves citizenship automatically and will be sworn later without necessity to take tests.

Preceding the Bankmanns to San Rafael, where they have lived since all but Ralph arrived in early 1956, were three relatives of Mrs. Bankmann all now living in Santa Venetia: an aunt and uncle, Walter and Emmi Hagel, and their son Gunther, who actually preceded his parents by a year when he came from Germany in 1952.

Bankmann was born in Hamburg, attended school for 11 years, became a clerk in the city hall and was ordered into the German army Aug. 28, 1939. He served in Russia and France as an infantryman and got out uninjured in May of 1945.

The Bankmann marriage was a wartime romance, for the couple met during the hostilities, at a time when Mrs. Bankmann was working in a store. They were married in Hamburg in 1941. The eldest child, Marion, was born in Hamburg.

Later the bombings of Hamburg began and Mrs. Bankmann fled with Marion to Dresden in central Germany, where Sigrid was born. Just before the end of the war the family moved back to live with the father's mother in the outskirts.

Out of service, Bankmann first worked as a mailman, later as a mail clerk and telegraph operator until the departure for America in December of 1955. Reaching New York the following month, the family at once came on to San Rafael.

Bankmann now works for a firm started by his relatives, the Hagel Co., a building maintenance and supply business at 5 F Street.

The family has been ready to seize all opportunities. Marion graduated from San Rafael High School two years ago and now works for the telephone company.

Sigrid graduated this year, and looks forward to attending College of Marin next month. Michael is still at the high school in the sophomore class.

Sigrid as spokesman for the family sums it up succinctly: "There is more freedom here and you can do more for yourself."

Rec Department Winds Up Two Summer Programs

The San Rafael Recreation Department recently completed two of its summer playground events.

"Splash days" was held at Terra Linda High and "junior olympics" was held at San Rafael High. In the splash days activity, Coleman School won with four first-place ribbons. Winners were Jim Allen, 50-yard freestyle; Sally Zitzmann, 12-and-under distance swim; Jim Allen, 25-yard backstroke, 14-and-under boys; Dave Brunhofer, 14-and-under diving.

In the junior olympics, Sun Valley playground won the team championship with 76 points. Among the winners were Linda Leone 7-and-8 girls soccer throw; Steve Rohrs 7-and-8 boys standing broad jump; Janice Wilson 9-and-10 girls 50-yard dash; Vivian Miller 9-and-10 girls softball throw.

San Rafael Master Plan Is Due

San Rafael should have its master plan by fall or early winter, provided that the state approves a major change in the scope of it.

Daniel P. Coleman of Coleman and Associates, civil engineers, preparing the plan, said the state is financing two-thirds of the expense and therefore it must approve.

The city council originally intended to have a recreation plan, but decided after work had begun that it should be converted into an overall master plan. Coleman said all material for the study is in hand and awaits only a favorable vote by the state to wind up the project.

Canoeing Class To Start Monday

The first Red Cross canoeing class to be held in Marin County will start next Monday and continue through Aug. 31.

Classes will be held at four different locations Monday through Friday. Persons interested may register at 11 a.m. Monday at the Red Cross Chapter House, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Relative humidity usually is lower in the winter because cold air does not hold water as well as warm air.

Army Captain From Marin Gets Honor

Capt. Franklin J. Levens, son of Mrs. Anne B. Levens of 477 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, has received a letter of appreciation for his "excellent work" in Korea as chief of the transportation branch, procurement division.

Levens, a Tamalpais High School graduate, has served seven months with the U.S. Army in Korea.

ARSONIST-SET BRUSH FIRE

Fire fighters watched a hellicopter sweep over a brush fire in the Claremont area of Los Angeles County yesterday. Authorities said the blaze, started on Monday, was now 75 per cent contained after burning 1,750 acres of watershed. Jerry D. Taylor, 30, an unemployed truck driver of nearby La Verne, has admitted setting the fire because "of an irresistible impulse. Taylor has been charged with arson in the past. (AP Wirephoto)

Contract Rejections Alarm U.S.

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rising tendency of labor union members to reject labor contract terms worked out by their own negotiators is alarming federal officials charged with maintaining the nation's industrial peace.

They feel it is bound to increase labor-management distrust and lead to more and longer strikes.

Increasingly, union and management negotiators will reach an agreement after hard bargaining only to have the affected workers repudiate the pact and send the union negotiators back with orders to get more.

The trend has been most conspicuous in the construction industry but officials report the same thing is happening in other industries with mounting frequency.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service conducted a nationwide survey earlier this year to sample the number of settlements vetoed by workers. It produced a proportion so high the agency is withholding the figure pending a recheck of its accuracy.

Among reasons being assigned for the worker revolts are these:

Union members have become accustomed during inflationary periods to sizable regular gains in wages and benefits and are balking, now that inflation is virtually halted, at more moderate terms.

Workers are less disciplined than they used to be and some of their local union leaders are sometimes operating counter to instructions from their national union chiefs.

Glowing promises by rival unions of what they could accomplish make the workers more demanding on their own union negotiators.

There have been a number of recent painful public examples of the problem.

One such revolt concerned carpenters in San Francisco, another metal trades workers at a key Atomic Energy Commission plant near Denver, and a third construction workers at the Polaris submarine yards of the General Dynamics Corp. at Groton, Conn.

The Groton dispute was finally settled after a long strike, costly to the Navy's nuclear-powered submarine program. Workers represented by 11 metal trades unions finally accepted a third agreement after rejecting two others.

Workers, represented by 16 metal trades unions at the Rocky Flats, Colo., government nuclear plant operated by the Dow Chemical Co., walked out last weekend. The union earlier had threatened to strike because the company refused to accept a government panel's recommendations for special weekend pay allowances. When the company later gave its approval, the workers wanted more.

Bay Area Family Is Sailing To Hawaii For 'Good Life'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— family of four, their German shepherd dog Shadow, and two crewmen plan to sail for Hawaii today and what skipper Richard Rose calls "the good life."

The other Roses are Sally, 30, wife and mother, and sons Kurt, 12, and Chris, 13. The vehicle for the Pacific voyage is the 63-foot, two masted schooner, Stormalong.

The crewmen are Mark Emerson, 23, and Jack Regan, 19. Emerson, son of Alameda County Superior Judge Folger Emerson, will be the navigator.

Rose, 35, said the idea for the migratory sailing came three years ago when the Roses visited Hawaii.

"We just fell in love with the islands," he said. "It's informal and no one takes himself too seriously."

Rose quit as manager of an auto agency in Oakland and the family sold its home in nearby El Sobrante.

Rose did not say how long he thinks the trip will take.

Industrial Output, Housing Show Increases During July

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two important economic indicators—industrial production and housing starts — both showed increases in July.

The Federal Reserve Board reported yesterday that the industrial production index rose one point to a record high level of 119 points in July, based on 100 points for average output in 1957.

The Federal Housing Administration reported a 9 per cent gain in housing starts and a slight advance in requests for FHA mortgage insurance.

President John F. Kennedy had cited industrial production as one of the economic indicators showing no need for an immediate tax cut.

The Federal Reserve Board said the index, which measures the production of factories, mines and utilities showed widespread increases. Auto production rose by 10 per cent following settlement of a strike against the Ford Motor Co. which curtailed production in June.

Production of iron and steel and consumer goods held about steady with June figures. Gains were registered in output of industrial, commercial and farm machinery, freight and passenger equipment, and most durable and nondurable materials.

College Scholarship Leads To Citizenship

A scholarship in 1952 at Hunter College in New York has led 10 years later to United States citizenship for a German-born San Rafael mother of three children.

Mrs. Ruth Brimmekamp came to this country to take advantage of a scholarship at Hunter which her father had helped to obtain for her. The managing director of a German camera factory, he had made the acquaintance of George Nauman Shuster, the land commissioner of Bavaria with the U.S. Occupation Forces.

Shuster returned to his position as president of Hunter College and awarded a scholarship to the bright young daughter of his friend in Germany.

While in New York, Ruth met another immigrant from Germany, Carl Gerd Brimmekamp. They were married Sept. 5, 1953, in New York City, and a year later Carl received his citizenship at Trenton, N.J.

The Brimmekamps came to California in 1957, living in San Rafael for one year. They moved to Sleepy Hollow, then back to San Rafael where they now reside at 144 Lowell Avenue.

Brimmekamp has been a West Coast representative for a German firm, but has recently resigned to launch his own industrial sales business.

The Brimmekamps' cihldren are Thomas, 7, and Susanne, 5, and Kristina, whose fourth birthday was this week.

U-2 Spy Pilot Files For Divorce

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Six months after a dramatic release from a Soviet prison, former U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers sued his wife, Barbara, for divorce on grounds of cruelty and intoxication.

The petition was filed yesterday in Superior Court at this middle Georgia city, hometown of the 28-year-old brunette Powers married in 1955. The couple has no children.

Powers said they had been separated since May 27. He charged she was "guilty of habitual intoxication" and that she cursed and abused him without cause.

Mrs. Powers had no comment when she was served with a writ.

Her mother, Monteen Allen, said she was surprised to learn a divorce petition had been filed.

"I love Barbara and I love Gary," she said, "I'm so sorry about this. Barbara hasn't been herself since Gary was shot down."

Powers was downed May 1, 1960 while flying a reconnaissance mission over the Soviet Union, an episode that touched off an international controversy.

The U-2 pilot was tried in a Moscow court in August 1960, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 10 years deprivation of liberty for spying. On Feb. 10, 1962, the 32-year-old pilot was released in exchange for Col. Rudolf I. Abel, a Soviet spy.

Powers retained his job with the Central Intelligence Agency, collected more than $50,000 in back pay and he and his wife took an apartment at Alexandria, Va.

In April Mrs. Powers was rushed to a Washington hospital after an overdose of sleeping pills. Three days later she was discharged.

TRUMAN WILL SPEAK AT BROWN DINNER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman will speak at a testimonial dinner honoring Gov. Edmund G. Brown Sept. 12.

The dinner is billed as "organized labor's salute to the governor for the social and economic gains his administration has made for the working men and women of California."

The $50-a-plate function is sponsored by the county Council on Political Education, a division of the county Federation of Labor.

Education Aid

A check for $13,990 has been sent from Washington to the College of Marin as first payment on a total $20,276 to cover federal aid due to enrollment of students for federally connected families such as those on military bases during the 1961-62 school year.

EX-QUENTIN FELON FACING NEW TRIAL

A Mono Indian who spent nine years on San Quentin's Death Row will face another sanity hearing Oct. 15 in federal district court in Fresno.

Rayna Tom Carmen, 51, has been in a federal mental hospital at Springfield, Mo., for the past two years. He still faces a federal murder charge for the 1950 slaying of Wilbur Dan McSwain in North Fork, near Fresno.

He was convicted and sentenced to death in Madera County Superior Court, but the Ninth U.S. Circut Court of Appeal later ruled the state had no jurisdiction because the crime occurred on federal land.

Convicted a second time in federal court, Carmen was declared incapable of aiding in his defense and ordered to the mental institution.

Carmen's attorney says he will seek dismisal of the murder charge if the convict is found to be permanently ill. Carmen has claimed the shooting took place accidentally when he and McSwain struggled over a rifle on top of a woodpile at McSwain's home.

Equalization Office To Move

The sub-district office of the State Board of Equalization in San Rafael will move to new quarters on Sept. 1.

The office, now at 2018 Fourth Street, will be moved to 496 B Street where it will occupy the ground floor.

Your Bones Will Ache At Follies; Larkspur's Wilson Lauds Manager

CONNOLLY

If you'd like to feel 10 years older, or think you're as good as you used to be, see the Ice Follies. It'll cut you down to size in a hurry. My bones ached, my joints creaked and every muscle in my body tightened as I watched "Youth on a Holiday." It's a terrific show.

For nigh unto 30 years the Ice Follies have hit the entertainment jackpot. Most shows, after any length of time, get a little frayed on the edges, but not the Ice Follies. They can't go anywhere but up the entertainment ladder with the huge cast of the world's finest skaters and blessed young gals. The show sparkles for three hours and includes the finest in skating, dancing, acrobatic ice skating, and Olympic Games figure skating champion Donald Jensen.

Richard Dwyer is one of the standouts but he has so many equally talented assistants, you have to label the show as the best. See it and believe it.

This letter from Ed Randol contains a boost for a young friend:

DEAR JAWN:

"This is great! I wouldn't want to be doing anything else in the world." That is what your protege, Doug Wilson of Larkspur and ex-Marin Catholic High, told me the other night in Reno.

A bus-man's holiday took me to the game between the little S. F. Giants from Fresno and the little L. A. Dodgers from Reno, the Silver Sox of the California League. While you watched the Giants clobber the Dodgers, the reverse happened in Reno, 19 to 9. Awful! But the main reason for my trip was to talk to Wilson and his manager, ex-Seal Sal Taormina.

"I've had a fair year and I've learned plenty," Doug told me. "I've slumped to about .280, but I'm coming out of it now, and I'm doing okay in the outfield. I started the year in center but Skipper moved me to left because my arm is not too strong. It has helped, and I'm getting some throwing assists now."

Wilson had nothing but praise for Taormina, the handsome and personable leader of the Fresno Giants.

"If I had my choice I wouldn't play for any other manager in the league," said Doug. "Skipper knows what he is doing, and is the most patient teacher I have known. Boy! He sure could have shipped me out for some of the boners I have pulled!"

Taormina had some kind words for his rookie, too.

"Wilson is always trying, willing to take instruction, and gets along well. He has a lot of natural ability, and you have to go along with a kid who is so full of hustle. He's a good boy."

Doug hopes to be sent to the Arizona Instructional League this winter for more training. If not, he'll attend College of Marin until spring training starts. He hopes to get in two or three years of baseball before his Army call, and has his heart set on a career in professional baseball.

John, how about a crusade to get the Giant brass to give their lower classification farm clubs some help? The Reno writers tell me that every other club has a trainer or a coach while Sal works alone. It seems a short-sighted crime that the Giants invest hundreds of thousands of dollars in raw material and then fall down on the job in training and physical protection.

There was an old-timers game the same night, and Lefty Grove beat Bud Beasley in three innings, 3-1. The old Philadelphia Athletic great can throw and bend a curve, even in his mid-fifties. No hummer left, but Lefty still has the familiar dangling arm, leg kick and smooth delivery. His battery mate was Lilio Marcucci. Beasley, the old teacher-psychologist, has added even more fancy flourishes to his windup, to the amusement of the crowd and the annoyance of the batters.

Best regards, and I'll see you in "The Bullpen" next week.

Stagg Will Fete Century Of Life

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The nation pays homage to Amos Alonzo Stagg tomorrow.

From Boston in the east to San Francisco in the west, more than a dozen cities will hold banquets honoring the Grand Old Man's 100th birthday anniversary.

And millions more, headed by President John F. Kennedy, will pause to consider the contributions Stagg has made in the world of sports and physical fitness.

Stagg will be at home in Stockton, where with his wife, Stella, he has lived for the past 30 years. It is probable that their little home on a tree-shaded street will be flooded with letters and telegrams of congratulations.

ALWAYS REMEMBERED

The old football coach is used to receiving them. Down through the years he has been remembered daily, weekly or yearly by thousands of his former players, coaches and friends.

"I took an oath when I was a young man that I would help young people," he recalls. "And that has been my whole life."

He has some other beliefs, however:

—How to live to be 100; go into training, exercise. No smoking or drinking. No eating to excess. Work for good.

—Only difference between football now and 60 years ago is the fact that the players are bigger. We had our tricks then, they have their tricks now.

—"Consistency of living" has been his prayer.

—All colleges should have football teams—and could, if they didn't try to keep up with the Jones'.

"COLLEGE IS PRIVILEGE"

—Student athletes should not be coaxed to go to college—they should consider it a privilege.

Stagg is the last living link between the origin and present day development of both football and basketball. He was seven years old when the first football game was played. He participated with Dr. James Naismith in the first game of basketball ever played.

The son of a cobbler in West Orange, N.J., Stagg had aspired for the ministry. But he decided he didn't have the speaking ability to make a good minister. So he turned to "ministry in sports."

His most treasured possession today is a bible presented to him by the Fellowship of Christian Athletes with the inscription: "To Amos Alonzo Stagg in recognition of a Christian ministry in the world of sports."

NEVER SWEARS

Stagg to this day never has uttered a cuss word. His strongest language when coaching was to call one of his players a "jackass" or a "dumbbell." If he was more perturbed than usual, he might go as far as to say "double jackass" or, for some terrible error, "triple jackass."

Among the honors he has received was that of "Greatest Living American," bestowed upon him by the United States Chamber of Commerce; and the Gold Medal of the National Football Foundation. Others to deceive this are tion. Others to receive this are hower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Stagg coached at Springfield, Mass., 1890-91; at University of Chicago 1892-1932; at College of Pacific 1933-1947. He was assistant to his son, Alonzo, Jr., at Susquehanna, Pa., 1947-1953, when he took a post as kicking and punting coach at Stockton Junior College until final retirement in 1960.

Funds from the dinners tomorrow and other donations will go to build a living memorial, the "Amos Alonzo Stagg Center of Physical Fitness" at University of Pacific in Stockton.

First Negro To Get Scholarship

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Coach Tom Nugent said yesterday the University of Maryland has awarded its first athletic grant-in-aid to a Negro.

The scholarship was approved for Darryl Hill, a halfback who starred last season for the freshman team at the Naval Academy, but then decided against a naval career. He attended Gonzaga High in Washington, D. C.

Brawls, Defections Highlight Games

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Officials of the Central American-Caribbean Games — who had hoped to avoid incidents in the two-weeks event—kept nervous eyes on the Cuban athletes today fearing new violence.

With the games only two days old, the Cubans already have been involved in one brawl. Further, their entire weightlifting team and its coach has defected to the United States because, "We could not represent a system that has caused the ruin of our country."

The games organizers met today to plan ways and means of keeping order, but one official unhappily admitted that "it will be very difficult."

A bitter free-for-all broke out yesterday among spectators at the Cuba-Puerto Rico baseball games, won by Puerto Rico 4-3. A riot squad finally put down the disturbance. There were numerous bloody noses and bruises. The Havana radio said one Cuban player was hurt.

"The players on the Cuban team started it all," said one Puerto Rican. "While the game was going on, they made remarks like 'lacking a nation of your own' and 'you belong to the United States.'"

A player on the Cuban team said a group of exiled Cubans in the crowd started the riot and fought on the side of the Puerto Ricans.

Cuban weight lifting coach Julio Cespedes said in Miami that he and his four men—Ignacio Herrera Sergio Oliva, Juan Torres and Geraldo Diaz—defected because they opposed representing "world socialism."

He said Fidel Castro told the Cuban athletes they were "not going to Kingston just to fight for Cuba — not going just to win medals but as representatives of socialism of the entire world.

"We could not represent a system that has caused the ruin of our country," Cespedes said.

'Gretel,' Australia's Challenger

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—On the blocks of the Newport Boat Yard, high and dry, perched the slim sloop from down under. A thin gold line striped the dainty white hull and on her bow was the constellation of gold stars of the Southern Cross, the symbol of Australia.

The United States has held the trophy, a two-foot silver pitcher, ugly but supreme in yachting circles, since the America took it away from the British in 1851. Twenty million dollars and 111 years later it still sits in a glass case in the New York Yacht Club.

Come Sept. 15, "Gretel" will race for the cup against one of four American sailboats about to fight it out for defender's honors around the 24-mile ocean course just out of sight of this one-time millionaire's summer haven.

The Aussies have shown the daring for which they are famed in making the challenge.

Never before had they built or sailed the 12 meter boats that compete in the championship. It cost them upwards of $700,000 to build "Gretel" and ship her here aboard a freighter.

They had before them the chilling example of 1958 when Britain made the 17th attempt at recapture and turned up with what yachtsmen call a "clunker" in their sceptre.

The British were beaten four straight in the best four out of seven competition. Twice they lagged by more than a humiliating mile behind Columbia as unseasonably light winds blew off Brenton's Reef.

The British crew was slow, its skipper outmatched. In sailboating of this racing class, a sloop may store as many as 37 separate sails and be prepared to hoist or bring one down in less than 20 seconds. Although they make a top speed of only about 13 mph, a close race is often won in less than 10 seconds.

With those lessons to ponder, the Australians have no illusions about their prospects. Neither do they have underconfidence.

"We are definitely the underdogs, but we shall see," says Sir Frank Packer, the dynamic Sydney publisher and self-made millionaire who heads the syndicate backing "Gretel," named after his late wife.

Packer and his colleagues went about the challenge in a no-nonsense manner. First they chartered the American 12-meter sloop, "Vim." It was built more than 20 years ago but so magnificent was its design that in 1958 it came within an ace of beating out Columbia for the role of U.S. defender.

Then they hired Payne, a 40-year-old bachelor and prominent naval architect in Australia, to study "Vim," and build an even faster boat. Payne worked 60 hours a week for two years, fought off hepatitis, tested models in U.S. tanks and came up with "Gretel." The new Aussie sloop then proceeded to beat him in three out of four races off Sydney.

Hull design and sails are two basic elements for victory. The third is the performance of the 11-man crew and here it is apparent the Australians need practice with the 12-meter boats. That is just what they're getting racing "Vim" these days off Newport.

Every morning at 6:30 a.m., the Aussie contingent of 26 men is roused at the brown clapboard Castle Hill Hotel to run through a brisk half hour of calisthenics. Every night they observe an 11:45 p.m. curfew.

In between, they are going "fair dinkum" in pursuit of the cup.

The skipper will be either Jock Sturrock, an Olympic champion helmsman, or Archie Robertson, veteran of 20 years yachting in the South Pacific waters.

Early this month those two, Sir Frank Packer and a number of crew members sailed "Vim" in races against the four American boats in the Long Island Sound cruises of the New York Yacht Club Squadron. The Australian showing was not enviable.

"I see we finished last yesterday," Payne remarked. "So we are sure to have learned something."

None of the Australians are making any advance excuses. They are accustomed to heavier seas and stronger winds than usually blow off Newport in Indian Summer. But Payne will not accept that as a disadvantage—he says Australian winds are just as fickle.

Whatever the outcome, the Australians will never forget their welcome here. When they arrived on a foggy July 20, a flotilla of more than 100 boats came out to greet "Gretel." Two Navy tugs sprayed up the traditional founts of water and a band on a Navy freighter let loose with "Waltzing Matilda."
